Work Begun on Forest Service's Kiasutha Recreation Area

Work is well under way on one of the largest recreation areas planned by the U.S. Forest Service in the Kinzua Dam and Reservoir area.

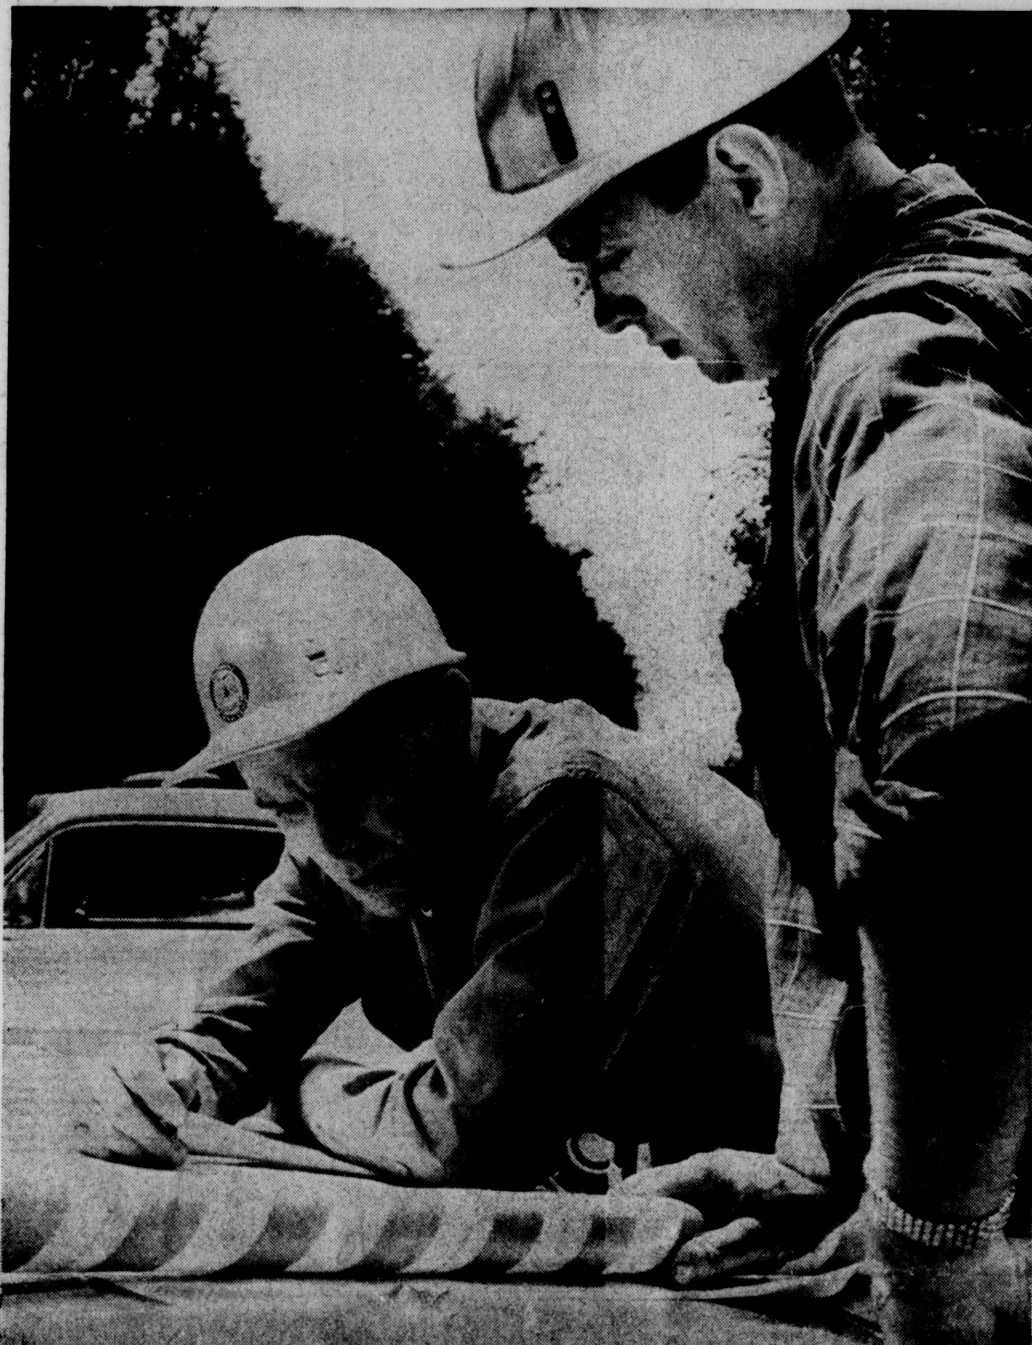

Traveling from Warren to Ludlow and ascending Gibbs Hill for a left turn down Mudlick Run one hits at the bottom of the hill the new road under construction to serve the area. This access facility to Kiasutha recreation area will, upon completion connect with Red Bridge. Work on the roadway is progressing rapidly.

MILLIONS of board feet of timber have been cleared from the Kiasutha site and one parking lot to accommodate 240 cars for the visiting public is under construction to the right of the entrance. It will be in this direction that tourists may one day picnic or take advantage of swimming and boating.

A second parking lot will hold 160 cars, providing space for 400 cars in all. Plans also include a concrete beach area, 100 picnic units and sewage and water systems. There will be two boat launching areas, one with a ramp long enough for 60 cars and trailers and a second which can handle 42.

WHEN THE time comes, campers will have the opportunity to raise their tents or park their trailers throughout many acres of the deep Allegheny National Forest. Areas have already been cleared for trailer accommodations.

Several comfort stations with water facilities to be added are completed and foundations are ready for building the balance of the required number of units. The recreation site has been designed to develop certain loops so that tent campers and trail-erites will be fairly remote from —See 'Work Begun,' Pg. 10

Consolidation of Dam Rec Areas Under One Agency Seen 'Smooth'

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The consolidation of recreation features at the Allegheny River Reservoir in northwestern Pennsylvania under one federal agency promises to be a smooth one.

Even before the President's Recreational Advisory Council approved earlier this week the broad guidelines for development of the area, the Defense and Agriculture departments had laid the groundwork to implement the plan.

In announcing the council's approval of recommendations drawn up by the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, the Agriculture Department said Secretary Orville L. Freeman and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara had agreed that the Forest Service should have jurisdiction over recreation.

Two top level officials have been assigned to coordinate the program worked out by the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation.

They are Richard A. Hertzler, chief of civil functions in the general counsel's office of the Secretary of the Army, and Arthur W. Greeley, deputy chief of national forest resources management divisions in the Forest Service.

"We're now working on details of the transfer," Hertzler said today in an interview. "We are ready, willing and able to transfer whenever the Forest Service is ready to take over."

Army Engineers are building the dam at Kinzua, Pa., and the reservoir on the Allegheny River which will create the focal point for the recreation area.

The Forest Service already has jurisdiction over land in Pennsylvania east of the river—the Allegheny National Forest.

Hertzler said the complete transfer to Forest Service jurisdiction could take up to two years or it could be completed in only months, "although that's unlikely."

There will be no interruption in development of recreation areas at the reservoir during the transfer, he said, but any development by the Army will be coordinated with the Forest Service.

The Army, he said, has already acquired most of the land needed on the western side of the river for recreation facilities but cannot, under law, acquire land or easements at great distances from the reservoir to preserve its scenic beauty.

That will be up to the Forest Service which will be guided by a master plan to be drawn up by the Secretary of Agriculture with the help of an advisory council made up of federal, state and local interests.

Hertzler said the Army will be ready in about one month to —See 'Consolidation,' Pg. 10

The annual Cornplanter Indian picnic, probably the last to be held on the 908-acre Cornplanter Grant, will be held tomorrow with Mrs. Martha Bucktooth as head cook.

Barbecued chicken, games and water sports, plus "some surprises," have been scheduled for the afternoon.

Merrill Bowen, president of the Cornplanter Land Owners Association, has urged all Cornplanter heirs to attend. All but about 160 hillside or high elevation acres will be flooded by the Kinzua dam project, which has made necessary the moving of the Cornplanter Monument and about 358 graves.

The land was given Chief Cornplanter in 1791 by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in recognition of the chief's services.

Humphrey Seen Top VP Choice

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's sweeping knockout of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and others from the lineup of vice presidential possibilities focused speculation today on Minnesota's Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey and Eugene J. McCarthy as his probable choice for a running mate.

In an unprecedented action Thursday the President eliminated nearly all the major possibilities for the No. 2 spot — including Kennedy, Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

The consensus among many knowledgeable Democrats was that Johnson, calculating that he has established his own political image strongly, wants to win elective office without leaning on any Kennedy.

The feeling was that to eliminate any emotional surge for the attorney general, the President was willing to eliminate a whole lineup of possible candidates he never really had considered.

Among those who hit the dust, only Shriver, a Roman Catholic and a brother-in-law of the late President Kennedy, and McNamara had received the sort of presidential praise that pointed toward them as potential candidates.

U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson, a two-time loser as Democratic standard bearer, was among those knocked out of —See 'Humphrey,' Pg. 10

Tickets on Sale for CDA's Dance To Aid Mikan Fund

The Catholic Daughters of America announced today that tickets are on sale for its August 8 dance at the Knights of Columbus Hall, to be held as a benefit for the Mikan Fund.

MRS. DENNY DiPierro, co-chairman for the event, said that tickets can be purchased at Lantz's Supermarket, United News, and both Walker's Dairy stores. Each ticket cost $1, and all proceeds will be turned over to the Mikan Fund.

Prizes will be given during the evening festivities, which will take place from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. The Catholic Daughters emphasized that this is an adult dance, featuring waltzes, polkas, and an occasional twist. A special dance will be an old-fashioned cake walk, it was reported. Mrs. Marcel Prigent is the other co-chairman.

THE MIKAN Fund, established to defray the heavy expenses incurred in Lori Jo Mikan's struggle against cancer, has reached the total of $1,328.03. The fund continues, despite Lori Jo's tragic death last Sunday in Buffalo's Roswell Park Memorial Hospital.

It was incorrectly reported Tuesday that the Fraternal Order of Eagles donated $5 to the fund. Instead, the Eagles Auxiliary was the $5 contributor. Here is a list of additional donors to the Mikan Fund:

Mission Succeeds

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) —Spacecraft Ranger 7 televised the first close-up pictures of the moon today and they look "extremely good," scientists said.

Ranger 7 crashed into the moon at 6:25 a.m. Pacific Daylight Time after a historic three-day flight. During the last few minutes before impact its six cameras apparently worked just as planned.

"We have good pictures," Ranger project manager Harris M. Schurmeier told a news conference at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory, which made and guided the spacecraft.

"The light level was good and video signals were good and the first quick prints made from film exposed by signals transmitted from Ranger 7 look exceptionally good."

"I think the public will be able to distinguish quite a few details when the pictures are released."

"If the pictures are sharply contrasted—with light and shadow—we ought to be able to see something the size of a few meters, say the size of a Volkswagen."

Ranger 7's six cameras were programmed to return 4,000 still pictures made from 1,300 miles above the moon's surface right down to the moment of impact.

The first photographs, Schurmeier said, are expected to be released within 24 hours after a board of scientists studies them.

The last shots, he added, were taken a fraction of a second before impact and would cover an area of about 60 square feet. —See Ranger 7, Pg. 10

Warren's Plans Still in Exploratory Stages

Vocational-Technical School Is Moving Closer to Reality in Crawford County

By BOB KOPF
T-M Staff Reporter

A vocational-technical school for Crawford County moved closer to reality last night, while plans for a similar school in Warren County are still in the exploratory stages.

AT AN INFORMATIONAL meeting in Meadville last night, Floyd B. Peters, Crawford County school superintendent, explained to interested citizens that such a school is a vital necessity. With growing competition among the young for jobs requiring skilled labor, the younger members of the county labor force will soon feel the pinch, he said. To protect the Crawford County labor force from outside competition, Peters proposed the immediate establishment of a vocational-technical school.

Such a school has technical courses designed for students of average ability and above, who may be planning to continue their education in college, as well as for those of comparable ability who plan to terminate their formal education at the end of high school.

ON THE OTHER hand, the vocational courses are intended for those who are definitely planning to enter industry upon completion of high school. Students must be of at least average ability or slightly below to be considered for vocational courses.

Since other Pennsylvania counties are setting up vocational-technical schools, Peters insisted that Crawford County should give its youth a chance to compete with skilled labor in neighboring areas in Pennsylvania. At least 26 other schools are, or will be, turning out skilled graduates.

Several other advantages result from the establishment of these schools, it was pointed out. New industry will move into an area with a skilled labor force, and industry job retraining programs are amply supplemented.

THE MAIN objections voiced at the Meadville meeting were concerned with problems of cost and transportation. Although the establishment of the school necessitates increased taxes in the school districts, it was explained that the state, through the Department of Public Instruction, will subsidize a minimum of 50 per cent of the cost. Act 463, recently passed by the General Assembly to attract new industry to the state, allows this reimbursement.

Industrialists in Crawford County have pushed the project hard, because they realize that will supplement their existing training programs. All they ask is a voice in determining the curriculum.

UNLESS unforeseen opposition

Chilly, Willy!

ST. MARYS, Pa. (AP)—The mercury dipped to 32 degrees early today in this northwestern Pennsylvania town and frost was reported in the area.

appears soon, the school will be established in August. According to its proponents, it will give opportunity to both boys and girls, mainly of high school age.

What has Warren County done about the establishment of a vocational-technical school? John Mallory, Warren County Superintendent of Schools, said in an interview today that the County School Board has considered the school actively since June. Mallory, a strong backer of such a school, indicated that "there is a definite need in this county for a vocational-technical school."

ONCE THE County Board submits an attendance area proposal to the Department of Public Instruction, the proponents can begin promoting the school, he said. Mallory continued that the major problem right now is getting a large enough attendance area to justify establishment. The DPI recommends a minimum of 400 students in the school. —See 'Vocational,' Pg. 10

Quaker State Stockholders Vote Two-for-One Common Stock Split

(Other Business News Pg. 9)

OIL CITY — Stockholders of Quaker State Oil Refining Co. voted yesterday to split the stock two-for-one and to increase common shares from one million to two and a half million.

THE SHAREHOLDERS also voted in the special session to eliminate cumulative voting in the election of directors.

Following the shareholders meeting the board of directors announced a 34 per cent increase in net profit for the quarter ended June 30.

THE BOARD announced that holders of more than 33 per cent of the capital stock voted for the changes.

The board announced also that certificates representing the additional shares would be mailed to stockholders Aug. 14.

A THIRD QUARTER dividend of 25 cents per share was declared based on shares outstanding after the stock distribution, payable on Sept. 15 to holders of record on Aug. 25. This dividend is at the annual rate of $1 per share or equivalent to $2 per share on presently outstanding shares.

Dividends paid in 1963 totaled $1.85 including a special 25 cent dividend.

QUAKER STATE and its subsidiary companies reported, for the quarter ended June 30, a consolidated net profit before audit of $1,088,943.64, equivalent to $1.31 per share compared with a net profit of $808,951.67, or 98 cents per share in the quarter ended June 30 last year.

For the six months of the year, net profit was $1,801,861.09, equal to $2.15 per share, compared with a net profit of $1,268,649.98, or $1.54 per share for the six months ended June 30, 1963.

SHARES outstanding on June 30 were 836,900 as compared with 825,000 outstanding on the —See 'Quaker,' Pg. 10

Channel Chatter

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The big movie studio where Bette Davis and Joan Crawford are starring in a film had been chilled to a frigid 60 degrees although the outside temperature was well over 85.

We huddled around an electric heater in a trailer dressing room as Agnes Moorehead, in her movie costume — frowsy gray wig and slattern's house-dress — discussed the fine art of playing a chic, sophisticated witch, her next, very different chore.

After our chat, Miss Moorehead was to have a chair smashed over her head, tumble down a flight of stairs and break her neck as the violent start of "Bewitched," ABC's tongue-in-cheek entry into this season's fantasy sweepstakes. Miss Moorehead, an eminent actress with a broad background of stage and screen, will be playing the part of Elizabeth Montgomery's sorceress mother in the series. Elizabeth will be a young witch who marries a young advertising executive, and abandons witchcraft. The series will be full of magic — with mother witch appearing and disappearing at will, controlling other people, reading minds.

After all these years, Walter Cronkite will be missing from his anchorman's post during the Democratic convention. CBS' decision to replace Cronkite with Bob Trout and Roger Mudd is obviously an attempt to re-pair the network's convention ratings. NBC's news team, topped by the popular Huntley and Brinkley, easily won the top audience ratings during the Republican sessions.

Three-fourths of the people in the United States never have traveled in a commercial airplane. Half the population, according to a recent study, moves no farther than 200 miles from home in the course of a year.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

NOW THAT those confounded experts are down to identifying people by numbers instead of names, Elliot Sharp tells about a convivial soul at the Hemisphere Club who introduced two men, explaining, "Number 435-11-9974, it's high time you met your fellow member, Number 632-7-091." The men shook hands warmly, and one said, "Mr. 632-7-091, where do you hail from originally?" "Dublin, Ireland," responded the other proudly. "Funny," mused the first man. "Your name doesn't sound Irish."

The late Hesketh Pearson recalls an evening he spent with the George Bernard Shaws. While G.B.S. told one story after another, Mrs. Shaw sat silently doing needlepoint. "What are you working on so diligently?" whispered Pearson to Mrs. Shaw. "What difference does it make?" she whispered back. "It's just that I've heard these stories of his five hundred times, and if I didn't do something with my hands, I'D CHOKE HIM!"

Dear Abby . . .

By ABIGAL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am 29 and very much in love with a 34-year-old man who was married for eight years. He recently divorced his wife because, after spending a fortune on doctors, he found out that the reason they had never had children was because his wife couldn't have any. This man is crazy about children and says he won't take a chance on marrying another woman who can't give him a family. I know this is going to sound horrible, Abby, but he says that the day I can give him proof that I am pregnant, he will marry me. But not until. He says he will even put it in writing. He has a lot to offer a girl, and I see nothing wrong with his proposition, but I would like to know if it would hold up in court.

WILLING TO GAMBLE

DEAR WILLING: If you see nothing wrong with this proposition at age 29, I doubt that I can educate you in one letter. As for whether his "deal" (written or otherwise) would hold up in court, a lawyer can tell you. A pity they don't require BRAIN tests along with BLOOD tests before marriage.

DEAR ABBY: My wife seldom throws anything out, and consequently our home is cluttered with old newspapers, magazines, rags, empty catsup bottles, pickle jars, outgrown children's clothing, toys, and I could go on and on. I have attacked this mess a few times and admit that the last time I was quite vocal about my displeasure, which did not make for domestic tranquility. We have children 12, 8 and 4. My wife is in good health and does not work outside the home. Can this problem be solved?

SEMI-HAPPY

DEAR SEMI: Your house is not a home. It's a fire trap! If your wife is in good health, she is apparently lazy, disorganized and in need of some help. "Attack the mess" together. The Salvation Army would appreciate the toys and clothing. Don't permit your wife to accumulate another collection even if you have to sacrifice a little "domestic tranquility" to achieve some semblance of orderliness.

DEAR ABBY: I know you usually stick up for the teen-agers, but I think you should mention that there are plenty of parents who have tried their best to raise their children to be honest and decent, but something goes wrong in spite of their efforts. Thank you.

HOUSTON PARENT

DEAR PARENT: Yes, what you say is true. But I am reminded of an incident which occurred in your city not long ago. Judge I. J. King, of Criminal District Court No. 2 found a young man in his court whom he had already placed on probation. He told the lad that now he would have to give him a prison sentence. The boy answered, "Good! I'd rather go there than go home!"

DEAR ABBY: My name happens to be KILROY, and wherever I go, people say, "O—Killroy was here!" Will you please tell me who Killroy was?

KILROY

DEAR KILROY: The expression originated during World War II. I don't know whether Killroy was a legendary character or a real one, but I'll bet one of my readers can come up with the answer. Does anyone know?

All in a Day's Fun!

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Robert Lee, 10, had put in a hard day sliding down a sandy hill above Ocean Beach. Then he slid too far, tumbled down a 200-foot rocky cliff, and fetched up unconscious on the beach. When he regained consciousness he was in a helicopter which took him to an ambulance, which took him to a hospital. Doctors found only slight cuts and bruises and sent him home. Robert said riding in the helicopter was more fun even than sliding down the hill.

Oil City's Festival Will Begin

OIL CITY—The All-American Festival in honor of Oil City's designation as an All-American City by Look Magazine and the National Municipal League gets under way Saturday with a gala parade. Sunday's events include sermons at local churches, a Civil Air Patrol fly-in, horse shoe and vigil services. Monday's feature will be a lawn social and concert; Tuesday's, a teen dance; Wednesday's, a concert; Thursday's, the parade of values and junior olympics.

The parade of values will continue through Saturday. Friday's special feature will be an All-American square dance and Saturday, the riverama, mayor's canoe race and evening under the stars. An art show will also be held Monday through Saturday. Two of the events which have received particular attention are the fly-in and canoe race. The Air Patrol planes will be available for inspection and there will be a sky diving exhibition. Ten cities will be represented in the canoe race.

Indian Summer Festival Set For Tionesta

TIONESTA—A five-day Indian Summer Festival at Tionesta will open Aug. 19, officials of the West Forest Business Corp. announced yesterday. The second annual event will include a parade, farmers market, merchants day, festival ball, chicken barbecue, smorgasboard, street dance, ice cream social, outdoor spectacles, lawn display contest, fishing derby, games for children and pony rides.

The first white man is believed to have penetrated the wilds of Forest County 137 years ago and, although today the wilds remain, there are no longer Indians. To solve this dilemma, the little borough's population of 800 will don Indian costumes for the occasion. On opening night of the festival, the Allegheny Council of Boy Scouts of America will present an Indian ceremony, the Legend of Tionesta. This will be followed by the crowning of a princess. On Aug. 22 the local citizens will present a pageant, the Indian history of Tionesta.

Mrs. Scranton's Help

DREW PEARSON, in his column on this page yesterday, made a slighting reference to the mother of Gov. William W. Scranton. He said that she was a hard-working Republican committee-woman who cared very little for the needs of the people of her area.

This is a gross libel on the memory of a woman who, in a quiet way, did more to relieve poverty in her section of Appalachia than all the words and PR gimmicks of the Johnson administration have so far achieved.

To be sure, Mrs. Worthington Scranton was a hard-working committee-woman for the GOP. She also had marched, as a teen-ager, in the suffragette lines in an attempt to get women's votes. She enjoyed political combat at all levels. It was her recreation.

But what is not generally known is that Mrs. Scranton devoted many hours and much money to helping relieve the poverty and hard conditions in her area. As Pearson pointed out, the Scrantons made a great deal of money out of the coal fields. Not so much, perhaps, as the Mellons and the Carnegies made in Pittsburgh, or the Pews in Philadelphia, but a substantial sum. Most of this was made by the present governor's grandfather. The family's fortune was so solidly founded that his father, Worthington Scranton, had little to do but mind the store, relying on the principle that money breeds money. Worthington Scranton himself was a man with a social conscience.

It was usual for the Scrantons to "help out the neighbors" when times were tough. Even during the long and bitter strikes against the Scranton coal interests, the family was busy dispensing individual aid to needy families in the Wyoming Valley.

The old Scranton homestead in Scranton itself—not used after Marworth, the family estate, was built—has been turned over to the Jesuit Order of the Catholic Church as a college. The Scrantons, by the way, are Protestants in an area which is largely Catholic. They have helped build hundreds of Catholic and Protestant churches. They have helped find funds for hospitals and orphanages. They have sent food and money to needy individuals and even have helped bail out whole communities.

It was from his mother, the Governor himself has admitted, that he learned the responsibility which devolves upon the person of great wealth. It was from her that he developed the social conscience which has led not only to continuation of Scranton charities, but to the life of public service which he has adopted; a life which he in no way is obliged to follow, except at the dictates of his own feelings. And it was probably the same idealism which led him to stage his hopeless fight against Barry Goldwater in San Francisco.

So, while Mrs. Scranton may have had, as Pearson said, a "New Yorker cartoon face," he should know by now, as an experienced reporter, that what appears on the surface is not necessarily what lies beneath it.

The people of Scranton and Wilkes-Barre will undoubtedly give Mr. Pearson a very rough time with letters, thanks to his passing swipe at one of Pennsylvania's great ladies.

Let's Settle It Now

WE SINCERELY hope that the Commissioners of the Rouse Estate will soon come to some sort of agreement on plans to enlarge the home for the indigent aged.

The two-round battle of this week served very little purpose. What is worse, Hill-Burton funds which might be put to constructive use in some other county, are being tied up while the commissioners try to decide what to do.

We would suggest that in this instance, the commissioners allow themselves to be guided by expert opinion and let it go at that.

What is needed at the Rouse Home is more beds. They are not going to appear by magic. How about a meeting of the minds, gentlemen? You owe it to the patients of the Rouse Home and to the taxpayers of Warren County.

Drew Pearson: Washington Merry-Go-Round

Irony and Mr. De La Beckwith

WASHINGTON—The United States government is in the ironic position of paying $25,630 to Byron de la Beckwith, the Mississippi charged with the murder of Medgar Evers, the NAACP representative in Mississippi killed a year ago last June. The payment was made for the acquisition of a post office site in Greenwood, Miss.

Beckwith was arrested by the FBI after his fingerprints turned up on the 30-36 caliber rifle with telescopic lens found near the Evers home after the slaying. Beckwith was tried last January by an all-white jury which voted 7-5 for acquittal. A second trial also resulted in a mistrial, April 17, 1964.

The strange paradox of the U. S. government paying $25,630 to a man whom it simultaneously prosecuted for murder results from a decision by the General Services Administration to acquire five tracts of land in Greenwood for a new post office.

The selection of the land was made in the summer of 1962 by a GSA team sent from the regional office in Atlanta. Its members included Randolph Jackson, Chief of Space Management Division; James Sheppard, an engineer; Talmadge Kirkland, appraiser; Al Mott, of the regional post office in Memphis; Fox Harmond, General Services Administrator for Birmingham, and Jack Kerley, buildings manager for Birmingham.

GSA explains that the project was begun by the placement of ads in the Greenwood Commonwealth on July 12, 18 and 19, 1962. There were four offers, and the team recommended the site August 17. GSA explains that at this time Beckwith's name was not in the news and there was no reason to know he would be charged with murder. Assistant Postmaster General Sidney Bishop OK'd the purchase on Sept. 14, 1962.

Five different parcels of land were purchased for a total of $124,932.

When a GSA spokesman was asked why the site wasn't turned down after the Evers murder, he replied: "This was the site selected as most advantageous to the government so we went ahead with our original plan. There was no sense cutting this off just because there was something pending against one of the owners."

Another land-owner who sold to the government for the post office is Mrs. J. H. Freeman who was paid $34,600. Queried by this column as to whether she knew Beckwith owned a parcel of land adjacent to hers, she said:

"Oh yes, I have known De La all his life. I love and adore the family."

"Did any of the government investigators ask you about the other owners of the tracts, such as Beckwith's?" Mrs. Freeman was asked.

"No, they never asked me and even if they had, it's none of your damn business," she replied.

"Do you own any of this land with Beckwith...?"

"No," snapped the sweet little old lady and hung up the phone.

Note—The Post Office Department has asked Congress for authority to continue a private-government partnership to buy land, lease it back to private industry and let private enterprise build the post office for a 30-year lease to the government. The Post Office Department finds outright ownership and building of post offices can be slow, cumbersome, and more expensive. Renewal of this plan is now under debate by a joint conference committee of Congress.

There was some humorous backstage by-play when Sen. Barry Goldwater arrived at the White House for his brief civil rights conference with President Johnson.

It almost resulted in a 19-gun salute for the GOP Presidential candidate.

The President had been talking to some 250 labor leaders about mutual problems and especially about putting the civil rights bill into practice. He spoke first from a text, then extemporized in a very personal manner, then concluded: "Let's go into the next room, have a drink and get acquainted."

This was at exactly 5 p. m. Goldwater was due at 5:30. But elder labor statesmen George Harrison, head of the Railroad Clerks, had to catch a plane at 5:45 and was ushered down to the south entrance by Assistant Secretary of Labor Jim Reynolds.

As Harrison got into his car, a little black car came up behind, and out jumped Sen. Goldwater.

"I'm here to see the President," he explained.

"He's in there with his labor friends," said Reynolds, waving to the resident part of the White House.

"Christ, don't take me over there," exclaimed the GOP candidate.

Reynolds took him, instead, into the Cabinet Room, gave him the New York Times to read, a paper he's accused of being too critical. There the Senator waited for his 5:30 appointment.

Meanwhile the Prime Minister of Malaysia, Tunku Abdul Rahman, was set to arrive at the South Grounds of the White House at exactly 5:30 and was due to get a 19-gun salute. White House aides had visions of the guns booming just as Sen. Goldwater made a triumphal entry. They did not know that at the moment he was huddled in the Cabinet Room, pouring over the newspaper which had been critical of him.

So alert Malcom Kilduff phoned Ambassador Angle Biddle Duke at Blair House, in charge of the Malayan Prime Minister's visit, suggesting that he delay Rahman's arrival for at least ten minutes, until after Goldwater and the President had settled down for their talk.

This was done. There was no salute for Barry Goldwater, unintentional or otherwise.

John Chamberlain: These Days

Republicans Can Agree

PORTLAND, Oregon—To judge from casual talks with certain Pacific Coast Republicans who are now in reluctant process of accepting the recent verdict of the San Francisco Cow Palace, the chief worry about Barry Goldwater's stance is not his positions on extremism and atomic weapon use. "That's all semantics," they are willing to say. The big worry is that Goldwater, for all his interest in electronics, jet piloting and clever mechanical gadgetry, "just doesn't understand what a complicated place the modern world is."

It could be, however, that Goldwater's critics make the world more complicated than it need be. Take this matter of federal aid to education, for example. In California's Los Angeles County, so I was told, the population explosion makes it necessary to "provide a whole new school every Monday morning." The University of California of Los Angeles will soon be hitting a maximum enrollment of some 26,000. Some Republicans think this sort of pressure on the education market makes federal help an absolute necessity. And they profess to doubt that Barry Goldwater is supple enough to deal with the clamor of millions for more and better schools.

One willingly grants the complications that occur when school days have to be broken into two shifts to accommodate the delayed results of the baby boom of the Forties. But what, in the Goldwater mentality, is unable to adapt to the situation? The question of federal aid to education is complicated mainly because of tax theories that create tangles that needn't be there. Goldwater would certainly favor leaving the states more tax money to build their own schools.

I had a good talk here in Oregon with a rising young Republican, Lee Johnson, who is a candidate for the State legislature from Multnomah County. He brought up the theory that Goldwater sees things in overly simple terms. Like other Oregonians, he is a believer in the Walter Lippmann thesis that Republicans ignore the masses in the "center" at their own peril. He is at present trying to adapt himself to the job of running in a Goldwater year. He is hoping that Goldwater will find ways of presenting a Republican response to the "complications" which the Goldwaterites, as he reads their prospectuses, have tended to ignore.

When you dig into Lee Johnson's way of thinking, you find that he has things that Barry Goldwater might easily be induced to buy. Lee Johnson believes in federal aid to education. He thinks it pretty silly, however, for Oregon citizens to send their tax money to Washington only to have it routed back to the home state to support schools and colleges. "About twenty per cent of the money," he says, "gets caught in the bureaucratic machinery in Washington. The fee is high. And it is unnecessary." Oregon citizens, he says, could be granted tax credits for education, and the State or the locality could then take the money from citizens directly and spend it on schools. If some states are too poor to yield local money needed for education, they could be voted outright subsidies. Bob Taft once had this idea.

So Lee Johnson, who is worried about Goldwater's response to the "complicated" modern world, is himself a believer in the theory that governmental philosophies hanging over from the depressed Nineteen Thirties are making our problems more complicated than they need be. He is far closer to Goldwater than he knows.

If Lee Johnson is representative of "center" Republicans who are hoping that Barry Goldwater will "come their way" just a bit, the problem of accommodation between two wings of the Republican Party should not be too difficult. There are "Republican alternatives" in many realms on which both the "center" and the "right" in the party could agree. Since more and more younger people are providing for their own insurance needs, and presumably won't be charges on the government in the future, a Medicare program could be elaborated to provide only for those who are now in late stages of earning capacity. This would put the more careless among the younger people on notice that they had better provide for their "big-age doctors' bills while they still have earning power that is growing.

The doctrine of adapting to current needs without creating bureaucratic monstrosities that will last forever is capable of almost infinite extension. Why do young Republicans like Lee Johnson worry about Goldwater's ability to see this?

Other Comments...

Crime rates have been rising steadily for some time in America—first in the cities, and then over the countryside, as if there were so much crime that it sort of slopped over. It has crept under the earth into the New York subways, and soared into the skies as planes have been bombed to collect insurance. Now that honest citizens have been reduced to fearful cowering behind locked doors after sundown in some parts of the urban nation, it might be time to shed some of the newthink ideas about crime and criminals that have been in fashion for several decades.

Our betters have been lecturing us that crime is the product of slums, of poverty, of crowded cities. They have been saying that crime is a problem for the psychiatrist, the social worker, the vocational instructor and the recreation director rather than for the policeman, the judge and the warden.

Editorial Viewpoints Of Other Leading Area Newspapers

And, really, we wanted to believe that criminals could be reformed, so we listened. But if it is the problem of the social scientists rather than the penal system, they haven't been able to solve it. The more active they have become in the field, the more crime we have had. This could be coincidence, but their theories should be re-examined by the rest of us, if we value our lives and our property.

Is crime caused by poverty? Then why with less poverty, more crime? Is crime caused by slums? Then why do slum conditions abroad fail to produce our crime rates? Is crime caused by crowded cities? Then why is there so much crime in our more open cities, like Washington and Los Angeles?

And let's not blame "public apathy," either, while we're about it. The public is too scared to be apathetic. We elect governments to protect us from crime, and pay dear taxes for protection that we do not get.

It's time to wrest some of our best minds away from their musings on less important matters, and find some new approach to protection of life and property from the lawless. Or failing that, to go back to no-nonsense police enforcement, strict judges, and realistic jail sentences—a way which was somewhat more successful, however far from ideal.

—Oil City Derrick

Don't count on any of that publicity (it's most difficult to call it news) that the august and venerable U. S. Senate will ever get around to policing its own members.

Bobby Baker, who found the back halls of the Senate building were a four-lane highway to questionable riches, got little more than a wrist slap and a knitted-eyebrow scowl from what is supposed to be one of the most honest and upright groups in the land.

The Senate Rules Committee pretty much agreed that what Baker did in his position of relatively high office on the public payroll was a terrible thing. And there it seems to have ended.

This being an election year, the Democrats are not disposed to do much about it and send the stink cloud higher and farther. The Republicans would like to, for, we suspect, partisan reasons more than to right a wrong, but as the minority grouping they're in no position to do so.

Baker's defense was never really that at all. The question of what he had done was pretty much admitted.

Where prosecution of him fell apart was that he had worked in that grey area just inside the law, disregarding ethics of public service, riding every opportunity horse, indulging in all types of improprieties to reach an end...breaking more laws but skirting the man-made ones.

If there's not a way to punish the future Bobby Bakers—and make no mistake about it, there will be others—then the Senate had better come up with minimum standards for the 180 million people whom they represent.

Martin Ransohoff, producer of "The Americanization of Emily," is negotiating with a disc company for an LP to be titled "The Americanization of Julie." I would feature Julie Andrews singing Yankee-doodle standards by Richard Rodgers, George Gershwin, Cole Porter and all those talented boys. . . Peter O'Toole may jet over from England in October just for a night. He'd like to pay tribute to Columbia Pictures' Leo Jaffe on the evening Brandeis University is giving a dinner to celebrate Jaffe's election to a fellowship.

Mary Pickford hasn't been too successful in her European search for prints of her very early silent pictures, despite a tour of film vaults, film society libraries and private collections. She wants the reels for the Hollywood Museum. . . They wanted Phyllis Newman for the Carol Burnett replacement in "Fade Out-Fade In," but Phyllis has made an inflexible rule. She vows never again to become involved in any project of Adolph Green's, because he's her husband and she just doesn't think that's the way to go.

I wish Shirley MacLaine would make the powers that be (and I think one of the powers is her husband, Steve Parker) change the title of her upcoming picture. I'd like to mention it, but I don't want readers to accuse me of being party to treating a minority group irreverently. And they would, they would. . . In England there are nine different recordings of "Hello, Dolly!" caressing—or assaulting—the British eardrums. . . A top-flight psychiatric hospital in New York State refuses to take patients from show business. They're too much trouble, the medics have decided.

Many New York restaurants and nightclubs were so desperate to get the Shriners' business that they relaxed their customary rules about attire and allowed the conventioners in without jackets, sometimes even without ties—just as long as they kept their fezzes on for identification, so the regular patrons would understand. . . Paul Lynde may be leaving his Hollywood nook next season to star in "The Severed Head" on Broadway. It's David Merrick again, producing a New York version of the London hit, and Paul is up for the male lead.

Dr. Robert Baird, author of the explosive book, "Narcoticsville," has been called to Washington to testify before Sen. McClellan's subcommittee on narcotics, which will convene next week to conduct hearings on the national problem. Dr. Baird's testimony is considered important because of his wide experience in dealing with addicts through his HAVEN headquarters in New York, and his dynamic style should make the legislators sit up and listen with hair bristle. . . Dolls continue to be the toy world's biggest moneymakers, a trend that goes back to the "kewpies" and the Shirley Temple dolls. The "Tammy" doll currently grosses more than $50,000,000 a year.

Keeping Well . . .

GOUT IS a disorder of metabolism, and as such it belongs in the same category as diabetes and obesity. The victim of gout is unable to handle uric acid; the diabetic has difficulty with sugars, and the overweight cannot utilize foods in general. Remedies are available for all three disorders.

Gout sometimes is called gouty arthritis because symptoms are confined mainly to the joints, usually the big toe. Most victims are awakened at night with severe pain in this toe, which is swollen, hot, shiny, and purplish-red in color. Fever, headache, and weakness may coexist. Unless treatment is started, discomfort lasts several days to weeks. Thereafter, symptoms subside gradually.

Recurrences may be expected. As the disease progresses, the intervals between attacks tend to shorten. Now and then an ankle, knee, hand, wrist, or the back bear the brunt of the siege.

There are so many good remedies nobody need suffer a prolonged bout. Colchicine is an old product but it continues to be one of the most effective in relieving pain. Butazolidin and Tandearil are useful alternatives. The corticosteroids and ACTH are not superior to colchicine but are of value in some instances.

Chronic gout is best treated with probenecid (Benemid) and sulfinpyrazone (Anturan), which lower the uric acid level in the blood. They help prevent recurrences and lessen the need for a strict diet.

Some drugs may hinder the action of probenecid and sulfinpyrazone. Small (but not large) doses of aspirin may do this as well as oral diuretics such as Hygroton and Diuril. Other factors that precipitate an attack include traveling long distances while sitting in a cramped position, dietary or alcoholic indiscretions, emotional upsets, and operations.

E. B. writes: In what way does Buerger's disease affect the blood vessels?

REPLY—The blood vessels become narrow or obstructed—so that circulation to the leg is impaired, causing pain. Symptoms are somewhat similar to those caused by hardening of the arteries of the legs. Some authorities believe Buerger's disease is another form of arteriosclerosis, which develops in younger men. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on Buerger's disease.

M. S. writes: A baby a few weeks old was operated on recently because he could not keep his formula down. What do you think was wrong with this child?

REPLY—In all probability, the infant was born with a narrowing of the exit (pyloric) valve of the stomach. Surgical correction is followed by dramatic relief. Vomiting stops and strength and weight are gained rapidly.

Mrs. M. writes: My 17-year-old granddaughter is a religious girl who does not smoke or drink. But she is sick with mononucleosis. How is this disease treated?

REPLY—There is no specific remedy although one of the corticosteroids is used occasionally. The majority get well spontaneously.

H. E. M. writes: What symptoms are caused by a nervous stomach?

REPLY—Pain, belching, heartburn, and a feeling of fullness after eating.

A few weeks ago, a group of dogs ran around an oval track and the winner got $25,000. Until now, I had thought of dog racing as an hilarious sport; a group of mad mutts chasing a spurious electric rabbit. Instead, it is becoming a big-time sport, with 30 tracks around the West and South, and some dogs winning as much as $75,000 a year.

Sports writers claim it is a clean and respectable sport. Gamblers have tried, of course, to "fix" certain races, but greyhounds haven't got sufficient intelligence to quit trying, and gamblers have. The "fix" consisted of feeding a depressant pill to a favorite, or paying a trainer to feed the dog a weakening diet. Both are easily detected.

In Florida, where 17 of the 30 tracks operate, the big operators asked Phil O'Connell of Palm Beach to accept the post of coordinator. He is the former state attorney who prosecuted Judge Peel for the murder of Judge Chillingworth, and is completely humorous when it comes to anything as heinous as trying to fix a parking ticket. He has heard of mercy, but only as a weak word.

The showplace of dog racing is the Flagler Kennel Club in Miami. It is owned by a banana importer, Isadore Hecht. His track is shorter than race tracks, but the grandstand, the clubhouse, the restaurants and the appointments are as sumptuous as Aqueduct, Arlington or Del Mar.

The worth of a good greyhound, until recently, could be measured in hundreds of dollars. Today, a stakes winner like Red Tears is worth $50,000 on the roof, or, rather, paw. About a hundred dogs are in the air-conditioned kennels each evening at Flagler. They lick their legs and are soothed by Muzak music.

Each one eats about three pounds of horsemeat per day, an ominous sign that the new sport is beginning to devour an old one. There are 11 races at most tracks, staged at 15 minute intervals between 8 p.m. and 11.

Unlike race horses, dogs are graded by performance. A greyhound begins to race at age 18 months. He is marked "M" for maiden until he wins his first race. The moment he does, he moves up to class "E." If he wins one in that division, he automatically moves up to Class "D" races and, if fast enough, eventually becomes a Class "A" or "Stakes" dog.

He will race until he is four or five years of age, but will hit his prime at age three. Females race with males, except when in feminine cycles. The dogs break out from post positions, and usually run 5/16th of a mile, chasing the electrified bunny which disappears into a glass-enclosed box along the inside rail after they pass the finish line.

Greyhounds are good-humored about the rabbit.

When they reach the glass box, they all skid to a stop and look inside at the bits of white fluff, wag their tails, and trot off with the track walkers. Sometimes, especially on a rainy night, the bunny is short-circuited and stops. When the dogs catch it, they leap up and shred Speedy.

At Flagler, about 7,000 dog addicts show up each night to bet an average of $330,000. Mostly, they are the same faces—average workmen, wives in slacks studying form charts—and they are there for a killing. Most of them do not bet win, place or show as such, but try to select quinellas. They wager $2 that they can pick the winner and the second place dog.

They bet, say, 1 and 4 dogs. If the race ends with those dogs in front, it doesn't matter whether they finish in that order or reverse, the payoff on $2 is high, ranging from about $25 to $150 or more. There are also doubles wagers, and twin doubles. The latter sometimes pay $30,000 or more.

Hecht has six television cameras in constant focus around the track. Sitting in his office, he can watch betting windows, track, or peek inside the kennel to see what is going on. John Boggiano, of Palm Beach is one of the early proponents of dog racing, and has led the fight to make it a respected sport. He and the other track owners from Apache, Arizona, eastward realize that there is a lot of money to be made in honest racing, and a lot to be lost in permitting one fixed race to blacken the record.

As one who looked upon running dogs as something comical, I was surprised to find that Eugene Mori, owner of Garden State track in New Jersey, and Hialeah in Florida, is a dog addict. Horse jockeys like William Hardtack handicap the dogs nightly and bet big sums. The dog requires no jockey and there is no such thing as a foul claim.

A dog who loses three races in a row is dropped in class, but he is always doing his best. A grey-haired lady, knowing I had never seen a dog race before, advised me to try a quinella of 5 and 7 in the second race. What could I lose? I bet the $2 and it won, paying $110.

I stopped to thank her. "Boy," I said, "did we clean up?" She smiled. "You did. I bet 1 and 8." "But why did you tell me 5 and 7?" I said. "Because," she snarled, "that's my age. I played what I wish I was."

Clarksville: A Town Starts Over

[EDITOR'S NOTE — How many times have you heard a disgruntled citizen exclaim, "they should junk this town and start all over?" Well, they're doing just that in Mercer County in the case of Clark—or Clarksville. How they're doing it and the myriad problems involved are detailed in this AP Spotlight.]

By JACK MCKEE

GREENVILLE, Pa. (AP) — "If I had my way, we'd junk this town and start over again," that statement has been made many times in many places, but rarely does anyone ever have the opportunity to "junk" a town and begin anew.

There is, however, one municipality in Mercer County which is doing just that. Clark or Clarksville, depending on whether you are a post office employee or a resident of the borough, is beginning a new life.

It all began with the decision to build the Shenango River reservoir. Once water is backed up behind the dam near Sharpsville, a portion of what has been Clark for many years will be under water.

Much of what will not actually be under water will be included in the area surrounding the new lake and has been condemned by the government to prevent undesirable development.

All of that portion of Clarksville (or Clark) which lies west of the Shenango river has been vacated. The entire borough now lies east of the river in an area bounded on the North by Pymatuning Twp., on the east by Jefferson Twp., and on the south by Hickory Twp. The western border will be formed by the new lake.

To reconstruct a town, even a small one, is no easy task. It begins with acquisition of land and ends no one knows where. Clarks annexed a portion of Pymatuning Twp. and in so doing immediately became 10 times larger. Annexation increased the borough area from 167.4 acres to 1,615 acres.

But annexation was only a start. Houses had to be moved, streets built, churches moved or constructed, business place relocated and zoning restrictions adopted. The list goes on and on. Slowly but surely, Clark officials are making progress and the new borough is beginning to take shape. The scattered population of about 650 is nearly double that of the former Clark.

A planning board is expected to present a proposed zoning ordinance at a Sept. 1 meeting of borough council. But even before this ordinance has been presented and adopted, building in the new Clark has been following its development program.

An area east of town on the south side of Route 258 will be used for industrial development. Clark's own Hall Lumber Co., which turns out skids for use with fork trucks, will be the first to settle in the new industrial area. Work on the firm's new building is under way.

Another sizable section of ground, probably covering 75 or more acres, is being held for later development, possibly as a shopping plaza site. It, as is a considerable portion of the newly annexed land, will be zoned agricultural to permit the borough to control its future uses.

What will likely be the largest single commercial district will be located along a stretch of Route 258, which is to be constructed.

This new stretch of highway, however, has been developing too slowly to suit borough officials. They claim commercial establishments are holding off pending completion of the new road, and that while the contract for the job has been let and some work has been done the whole project is far behind schedule.

There is more than this involved, however. New streets, which at present are dirt or gravel, have been laid out to intersect the new road. New homes have been and are being built, and many of the 40 homes which were moved from their former locations have been placed on the new streets. Access to many of these homes is possibly only because one property owner permits the use of several hundred feet of private drive.

Both of Clark's churches, Methodist and Presbyterian, plan to build new sanctuaries. The Methodist Church will be within borough limits. The Presbyterian congregation expects to locate in Hickory Twp.

More than 700 graves have been exhumed and moved to a new cemetery. This job has been completed with exception of replacing grave markers and transporting several of the larger stones from the Greenwood Cemetery to the new 10-acre contoured section of what is popularly called the upper cemetery.

Michael Mudrey, council president, says the borough hopes to lease the municipal building back from the government since it is above the maximum pool level but within the area around the lake which has been condemned.

These are only a few of the immediate problems that have had to be solved. As the new Clark develops, it will be faced with a multitude of situations, each of which will demand a solution.

Not the least of these will be a need for more money to support the borough. This will more than likely come from the same source most other municipalities tap—taxes. Increases in taxation are almost assured if Clark is to begin its long climb to a stature never before dreamed of.

New and improved facilities will have to be furnished not only for commercial and industrial development but for residents as well. One of the more immediate objectives is acquisition of land for a borough park—one that is not associated with the lake and will be made primarily available to borough residents. But beyond this are more streets, utilities, decisions on development and, in general, preparation for a new kind of life.

With the Shenango River reservoir at its doorstep and rail and highway transportation systems readily available, a guaranteed water supply, industrial complexes north and south and the ever growing recreational industry, the new Clark stands in an enviable position. The future holds a potential prosperity few other communities are privileged to enjoy.

The Senators Remain Mum

WASHINGTON (AP)—You won't know for years, at least, how much income your senator may have in addition to his salary or where he got it, unless he volunteers the information.

He's going to keep his outside financial interests, if any, to himself.

That's the long and short of what happened this week when senators were confronted with various proposals that they reveal their income for public scrutiny.

Instead, the Senate supported an idea of Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, Senate Republican leader and long-time foe of efforts to make the Senate do unto itself what it does to others: disclose outside income.

The Dirksen idea calls for a commission to make a two-year study of the whole question of morals among employees of government in all its branches. But the Senate still wouldn't have to do anything about itself, no matter what the commission recommended.

Years ago Congress passed, and later tightened, a law to prevent conflict of interest among employees of the executive branch of government, such conflict meaning the mixing of a government job with personal outside gain.

For example: men appointed to high position by the president must get rid of stock they hold in companies dealing with the government. But this does not apply to members of Congress or its employees.

Congress has been urged to take action about itself for more than a dozen years by some liberal senators like Paul Douglas of Illinois and Joseph S. Clark of Pennsylvania, Democrats, and Clifford P. Case, New Jersey Republican.

In 1951 Douglas headed a committee which proposed that Congress set up a commission on ethics in government and that all members of Congress and government employees making above a fixed sum in salary be compelled to disclose their income, assets, and all dealings in securities and commodities.

Congress brushed it off. The whole question got new life last year in the Senate's embarrassment of Bobby Baker, who had been secretary of the Democratic majority in the Senate for years. He quit his job last Oct. 7.

This was when it became known he had wide-ranging interests and deals while working for the Senate. The Senate then authorized its Rules Committee to investigate to see whether Baker's outside activities had conflicted with his official duties.

The Senate additionally authorized investigation into the financial or business interests or activities of any officer or employee of the Senate but—the Senate didn't authorize an investigation of any senator who might have been mixed up with Baker.

The Rules Committee disclosed that while Baker's Senate majority pay was $19,600 a year he had accumulated a business fortune of $447,849. He refused to testify and thus avoided answering any questions.

In its final report July 9 the committee accused Baker of "many gross improprieties."

As a result of its work the committee proposed that senators be required to identify their outside financial interests.

Specifically, this called for senators and Senate employees earning over $10,000 a year to disclose yearly their major financial interests but not the value of their holdings nor the income derived from them.

The Senate squelched this. It did the same to an even tougher proposal by Sen. John J. Williams, Delaware, Republican who triggered the Baker investigation. He wanted senators and their employees to list each asset, in addition to disclosing their income tax returns.

The Senate also threw out a move by Clark to require a detailed listing of all holdings, income and gifts. So the Senate, which is quick to dig into the private doings of other government employees, isn't opening any window on itself.

Yet the Bobby Baker case will probably be an issue, and no doubt an unpleasant one, in this year's presidential race.

Letter to the Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

It has been a time honored practice for editors of newspapers to mold public opinion through the use of editorials. People have always turned toward editors for guidance and inspiration because the editors have been among the few in a community who are well informed on current events on the international, national, and local level. Your editorials on the Republican Party during the past few weeks do not indicate, to me, that you are as well informed as one would expect an editor to be.

At San Francisco, the Republicans west of Pennsylvania took over control of the party. Scranton received most of his support from the Northeastern states. Goldwater received heavy support from most of the other states. There are several reasons for this geographical split. One reason given is that the northeast conducts most of the trade with Europe and are interested in a government sympathetic to Europe. Northeastern Americans are also closer to Europe and the more socialistic governments of Europe. Western Americans are closer to the frontier days when man was quite independent and couldn't count on Washington for much if any help. The environment has caused different views to exist in the East and West. The people in the West have become numerous enough to express themselves and be heard.

On July 4, 1964, Dr. Walter Judd delivered the Independence Day address at Chautauqua. His speech was entitled "Needed an American Revolution." (Remember this was before the Republican Convention). He quoted the following from our Declaration of Independence: We hold these truths to be self evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just Powers from the consent of the governed, That whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it and to institute new government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. He pointed out that these rights are not given by the government but by the creator, governments protect these rights.

The present government still protects our life in most places but not all places in the country. Our liberty is being encroached upon, especially if we are farmers. It is becoming more and more difficult to pursue happiness. Because of the income tax, I have to keep all kinds of records that reduce the time that I have to pursue happiness which I don't have the money to pursue because of the tax. Our radical or extremist forefathers stated that whenever the government becomes destructive of these rights, that we have the right to alter the government. I believe that the conservatives in the Republican Party intend to do this—not to abolish it or change the constitution, but to change the laws to restore these rights to the people.

It is about time that someone stepped forward and pointed out to us the dangers involved in spending more than our income year after year and the dangers of a socialistic state. We cannot have the government provide for us the cradle to the grave and remain free anymore than the American Slaves could be free and still have their master provide for them from birth to death. The people of the United States ratified the 13th amendment to abolish slavery yet many people favor a socialistic

Scarves Fashion Keynote For Fall Paris Showing

By LOUISE HICKMAN
PARIS (AP) — Soft, banana-triangle scarves were the key to Jules Crazay's collection for Lanvin, shown Wednesday in the annual spotlight on fall and winter fashions.

They wrapped up everything from small-jacket suits to grand ball gowns. They came in soft wools, fluid crepes, jeweled laces and wispy organdies. Their hanky points reached hip level or swept the floor.

Last season, Crazay made a point with scarves, too. Then they were fringed, loop-around rectangles. There were more of these today in black and white striped mink or in black and white patterned ponyskin with fine silk fringes.

Bulky, wrappy coats and jackets had a scarf extension that looped around the neck.

Open bolero suits had tidy cravat-scarf fill-ins, flat and wide, trimly belted in at the waist.

Scarf-point cowed hoods, in mink, went over matching mink pullovers to wear with skirt-length pants and clocked stockings. Rounded, mink-hemmed shoulder cowls topped slim, supple cocktail dresses.

Slim shift dresses, tubular or semi-fit, were worn under jackets and coats. They had round, collarless necklines and polo-shirt buttoning.

Crahay endorsed pants for travel only. As jump suits with tubular, skirt-length trousers, they were worn with three-quarter coats or mink sweaters, sheer clocked stockings and flat moccasins. Suits of similar shape were worn with dyed-to-match open mesh stockings. Some had three-quarter capes, over three-quarter "sweater" tunics.

Coats were closed shift shapes with long, narrow sleeves, or roomy, fur-lined wraps.

The Lanvin evening clothes were beautiful. Stiff fabrics and a slim, slightly belled shape prevailed. Many gowns had long, tight sleeves.

There were lots of jeweled bolero effects. Tiny short-sleeved bolero yokes were embroidered on long-sleeved tubular dresses.

Former Valley School Folks Have Reunion

CHANDLERS VALLEY — Teachers and pupils of the former Chander Valley School had their 31st annual reunion in the EUB Church Sunday. They gathered in the dining room, where Richard Mack and Mrs. Floyd Swanson had planned a tureen dinner. The 66 persons served included 14 former teachers.

Everett Johnson, president, conducted the business meeting and officers for the coming year were elected. They are Everett Johnson, president; Clark McCrae, vice president; Oressa Dailey, secretary-treasurer.

After brief remarks by several members, Calvin Gage, accompanied by the Rev. C. M. McIntyre, sang two solos; the Rev. David Vennberg, pastor of the Mission Covenant Church, gave a talk about "a shoe." Mrs. Lyle Firth showed colored slides of her trip to Europe last summer.

ALUMNI PICNICS

Warren General Hospital Alumni Association will have a tureen picnic Monday at 6 p.m. in the Wilder Field Pavilion in Irvine. Those planning to attend are asked to bring a tureen and table service, the meat, coffee and rolls to be furnished by the committee.

Barnes Methodist Pastor, Family Are Vacationing

BARNES — The Rev. Randall Lunsford and family are vacationing for two weeks and guest speaker in the Methodist Church Sunday and next Sunday is Glenn Kohlepp, staff member at Wesley Woods Camp at Grand Valley.

The Methodist Sunday School picnic, staged in Wildcat Park, was attended by 47 adults and children.

OMEGA Class had its meeting at the home of Mrs. Sherman Grubbs, with Mrs. Herbert Bowley presenting the devotions and the hostess serving refreshments. During the brief business session, it was voted to omit the annual bazaar and ice cream social.

Visitors in town have included Mrs. Jay Hahn, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Hinkle and two children of Dallas, Texas.

A RECENT guest at the home of Mrs. Helen Roberts was Mrs. Amy Mitchell. She was en route home to Spring Creek from the Pennsylvania State University, where she attended a "work basket" for several days.

A daughter born in Warren General Hospital on July 27 to Mr. and Mrs. Norman Spicer Jr. has been named Kimberly Ann.

Mrs. Oran Morley has returned to her home in Sheffield after spending some time at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Roland Jenkins.

MR. AND Mrs. Francis Peterson drove to Canonsburg Friday evening to bring Frank Lloyd Jr. back to town for the Saturday celebration in Sheffield. His parents returned him on Sunday to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Simmons, where he is spending the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Allen are spending the week in Erie as guests of their son, Ronald, and family.

Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Snyder have been Mr. and Mrs. James Parsons and son, Ronkey, of Barberton, Ohio.

Lutheran Church Women Hear Missionary-Teacher

When First Lutheran Church Women have their quarterly thank-offering meeting in Fellowship Hall next Wednesday evening, the featured speaker will be Miss Esther Marshall of DuBois, an educational missionary to Liberia, Africa.

MISS MARSHALL has been teaching English to African students at the Lutheran Training Institute in Salyea, Monrovia, for the last two years.

Catholic Rites Schedule Two Weekend Pilgrimages

The annual pilgrimage for world peace, sponsored by the Franciscan Friars of Holy Dormition Monastery in Sybertsville, Pa., is planned on Saturday and Sunday, it is announced by the Rev. Anthony Skurla, OFM, guardian or superior of the monastery. The Most Rev. Stephen J. Kocisko of the Pas-saic, N. J., Catholic Eparchy, will offer a Pontifical Divine Liturgy at 4 p. m. Saturday.

THOUSANDS of pilgrims from a six-state area, representing both the Byzantine and Latin Rites of the Catholic Church, annually attend the pilgrimage at the monastery in Sugar-leaf Valley, six miles northwest of Hazleton on Route 29.

Scheduled the same weekend is the annual Festival of the Portiuncula Indulgence, otherwise known as the Great Pardon of St. Francis.

THIS WILL be the first pilgrimage since the monastery, formerly known as Immaculate Heart of Mary, has been re-named Holy Dormition. Father Anthony said the new name is derived from the Greek word for "falling asleep" and was the ancient term used to describe the Feast of the Blessed Virgin Mary, more commonly known as the Assumption.

Services will be conducted in the Grove of Our Lady, where thousands can be accommodated under a canopy of trees framing a huge outdoor altar. Many shrines dotting the monastery grounds.

The monastery was established in 1945 as a novitiate house for young men to train for the priesthood in the Byzantine Rite as the newest branch of the centuries-old Franciscan Order.

THE ANNUAL pilgrimage in honor of the Assumption of the Mother of God is scheduled on Sunday, August 9, on the spacious grounds of St. Mary Villa Academy in Sloatsburg, N. Y., it is announced, also. Sister Servants of Mary Immaculate, who conduct this private school for young girls, extend a cordial invitation to participate in the various services at the former Table Rock mansion-estate.

If you have a two-story house, you'll save many a step while you have very small fry in the house if you keep a supply of freshly-folded diapers both upstairs and down.

Cable Hollow Homecoming Has Been Set for August 9

AKELEY — A homecoming of present and former Cable Hollow families has been planned on August 9, with morning, afternoon and evening services conducted in the EUB Church. The committee on arrangements said details will be announced soon.

A RECEPTION was given in the Church House recently to honor the Rev. and Mrs. Lewis Rea, who have been returned to the pastorate for another year. There were 45 present for the event.

Following Scripture reading and prayer by Mrs. Jefferson Sears, group singing was led by Mrs. James Burford. Readings were given by Mrs. Elton Cable and a duet was sung by Jane Burford and Ruth Eberhart. To conclude the program, Mrs. Preston Cathcart gave a monologue, "When the Preacher Comes."

HOWARD Fox presented a gift to the Rea family and showed slides of local persons and scenes. Kenneth Craker gave the Invocation which preceded the serving of lunch.

Mrs. Clair McCullough, Mrs. Preston Cathcart and Mrs. Arden Pangborn served as the committee on arrangements for the event. They expressed their appreciation to all the others who had helped in any way to assure the success of the occasion.

The M and M Class of the church had a family picnic recently at Chapman Dam State Park, with 30 attending. Swimming was a feature of the outing.

FOR THE DIETER

Heat tomato juice with a whole clove, a sprig of parsley, a few celery tops, a small piece of bay leaf and a suspicion of sugar. Serve as a first course, in soup cups, for the weight-watchers.

Local Young Folks Attend Convocation

Several local and area young people are at Purdue University in Lafayette, Ind., this week to attend the National Convocation of Methodist Youth.

Among these are Linda Schumann representing First Methodist Youth Fellowship, and David Rydholm, who, with Trudy Wilson, was chosen by the Kane District Youth Council as delegates from Epworth Methodist.

Delegates from the northern section of Western Pennsylvania Conference met at Old Stone Church in Meadville Sunday to go by chartered bus from there to the university.

Youth from all states in the union are attending the conference, which has for its theme "God Is Love." After dividing into smaller discussion groups for separate sessions during the week, the concluding session will be staged on Friday and the area group will return by bus to Meadville.

Shower Honors August Bride

Mrs. James Schrecongost entertained Saturday evening with a variety shower honoring Miss Norma E. Carnahan, who will become the bride of John L. Schutt on August 22.

Bridal games were played, with prizes going to Mrs. C. E. Carnahan and Versal Carnahan. Bride Bingo was played, also, with a number of women receiving prizes.

After the gifts had been opened, lunch was served from a table decorated with wedding bells.

Guests included Mrs. Harlan Bloss and Becky Bloss, West Seneca, N. Y.; Mrs. Roy Schutt and Mrs. William Schutt of Clymer, N. Y.; Mrs. Joseph Schuyler, Russell; Mrs. Aileen Schrecongost, Mrs. Perry Sweet, Miss Darlene Gustafson, Miss Virginia Dunham, Mrs. Dale Carnahan, Mrs. C. E. Carnahan, Joyce and Versal Carnahan and Mrs. Mark Roberts.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	2♣	Pass
2♥	Pass	3NT	Pass
4♣	Pass	6NT	Pass

Opening lead—eight of spades.

You wouldn't think, holding the West hand with a ten and a nine as its highest cards, that you would be caught in a squeeze, but that is exactly what happened to West in the match between Sweden and Israel in the recent World Bridge Olympiad.

The Swedish declarer at the first table bid six clubs and was defeated when he lost a spade and a club to go down one.

When the Israeli declarer (J. Balalla, playing with L. Rozennu) played the hand at the second table, he arrived at the better contract of six notrump. Balalla would have made the slam easily against the spade lead if the clubs or the hearts had been divided 3-3, or the diamonds either 3-3 or 4-2. But he ran into bad distribution in all these suits and was able to make the contract only because he executed a squeeze against West.

East took the spade lead with the ace and returned a club. Declarer won with the ace and cashed the A-Q of diamonds, thinking at this point that he had twelve easy tricks, but when the Swedish East showed out on the second diamond, South had to look elsewhere for a twelfth trick.

He cashed two more clubs, discarding spades from dummy, and thus discovered the 4-2 break in that suit. This was now the position:

North	West	East	South
♦ A 6 4 2	♦ 10 7 5 3	♦ 10	♦ K 4
♥ K J 8	♥ 9 8	♥ 9 8	♥ K Q J
♦ K J 8 3 2	♦ 9 7 6	♦ 10	♦ A K Q 9 8 3
♣ 6	♣ 7 2	♣ 7 2	♣ 7 2

The lead of the king of spades rendered West helpless. He could not spare a diamond, so he discarded a heart. Declarer thereupon discarded the eight of diamonds and made the rest of the tricks by overtaking the third round of hearts with the ace.

In His Hand

What high company; What a privilege to be held in the palm of the strong hand of God. No man dare trying to stand alone... to walk without Him. Just as surely, no man can fail when God is with him. "My Father, which gave them me, is greater than all; and no man is able to pluck them out of my Father's hand." John 10:29. He has everybody in His Hand. He who would be wise should step upon the strong hand of God this day and take Him at his word. He said, "My grace is sufficient for thee." Only trust Him. Help support His cause. Attend church every week and may the Lord ever be with thee.

You In The Church
The Church In You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

As SAM DAWSON Sees It
(Business News Analysis)

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans may get slightly higher returns on the money they lend for short periods, thanks to Europe's growing inflation and trade problems.

The U.S. Treasury is moving to keep short-term interest rates high, although the domestic demand hasn't been growing. It wants to ward off any increase in the loss of dollars to overseas money markets where yields have been rising.

The trick is to manipulate the money market here so that any

TO THE BITTER END

TORONTO (AP) — Chuckie Joe, a battered old scow skippered by owner Ken Sinclair, is one of the last remnants of Toronto Island's once-thriving business life.

Chuckie Joe plows the water between the city and the island carrying essentials to the dwindling island population.

Sinclair Island Freight Company is a haulage contractor, beer deliverer, house mover and sole source of oil delivery during winter.

Once a tool designer, Sinclair quite the drawing board in favor of the island's open air. Now he is philosophically awaiting the time when there will be no one left on the island to serve.

Metropolitan Toronto is gradually razing the homes of island residents in order to turn it into a park. In 1952, the first 638 leases were terminated and since then houses have been acquired in piece-meal fashion reducing the year-round population from 2,500 to 1,200.

Soon the island's three remaining businesses, a boat builder, a grocery and Island Freight, will have folded. The gruff owner of Island Freight will be the last to go. "After it's all gone," he says, "I'll still be here."

WORLD'S LONGEST ROAD BRIDGE

CUTTACK, India (AP) — The 1 1/2 mile Mahanadi road bridge, longest in the nation, has been completed to form an important link in the Calcutta-Madras national highway in eastern India.

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels were boosted by further talk of a steel-price increase and the stock market moved irregularly higher early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

Gains of fractions to a point among key stocks outnumbered losers in the same range.

The steels responded to a strong hint from the board chairman of Bethlehem that steel may be headed for another price rise.

Motors were unchanged to lower, Chrysler being upset by the Justice Department move to bar that company from acquiring Mack Trucks, whose stock reacted sharply.

The successful moonflight of the Range 7 had no effect on the companies involved in the project. General Dynamics and Radio Corp. traded unchanged.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .2 at 319.1 with industrials up .9, rails off .1 and utilities off .1.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.45 at 840.82.

U.S. Steel and Bethlehem each were up about a point while Republic, Jones & Laughlin and other major steelmakers added fractions.

Chrysler was down 1/2 on an opener of 10,000 shares, later shading the loss. Mack Trucks was swamped with sellers and was down 5/4 at 45.

Xerox, off more than 3, continued weak on rumors it might reduce prices. Control Data lost 2.

Fractional gains were made by Goodyear, Raytheon, American Airlines, Merck, Union Carbide and Du Pont.

Prices advanced unevenly on the American Stock Exchange. Trading was moderate.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds were a little higher.

EVEN HEAVEN GETS CARELESS

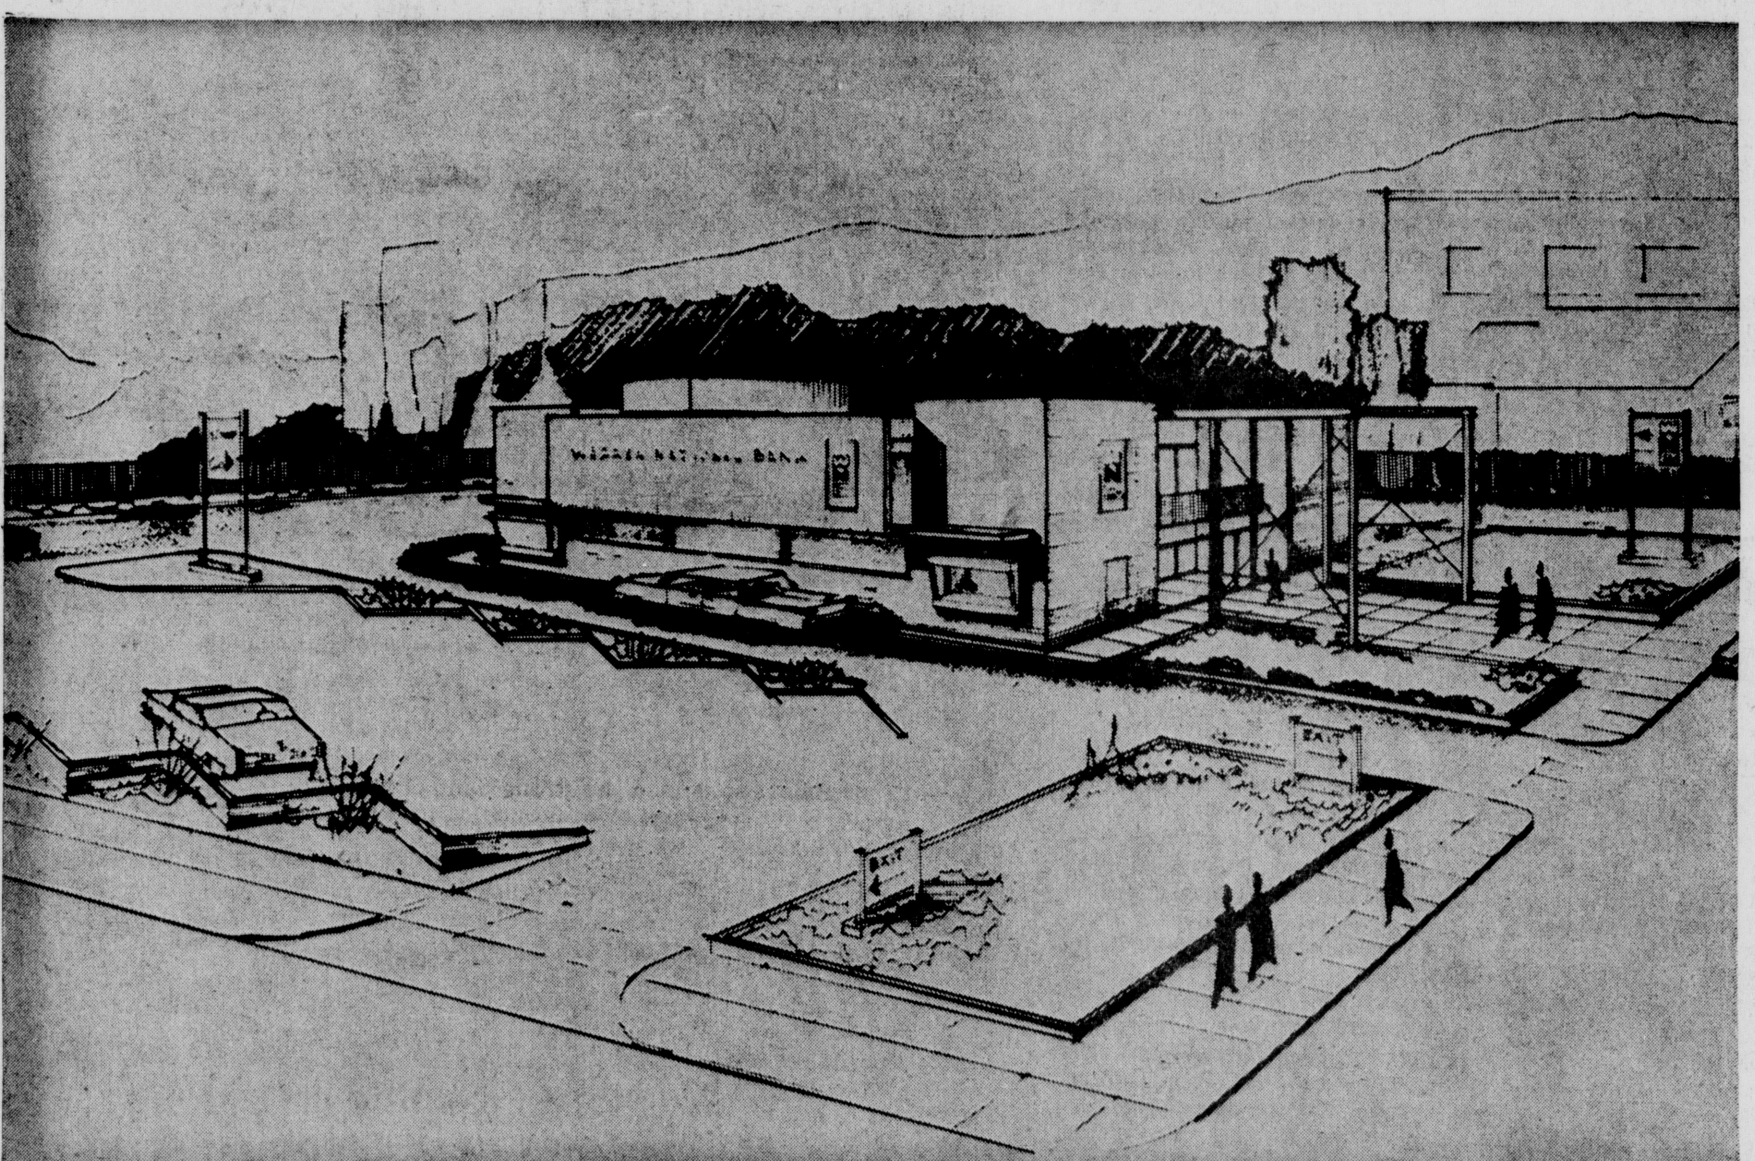

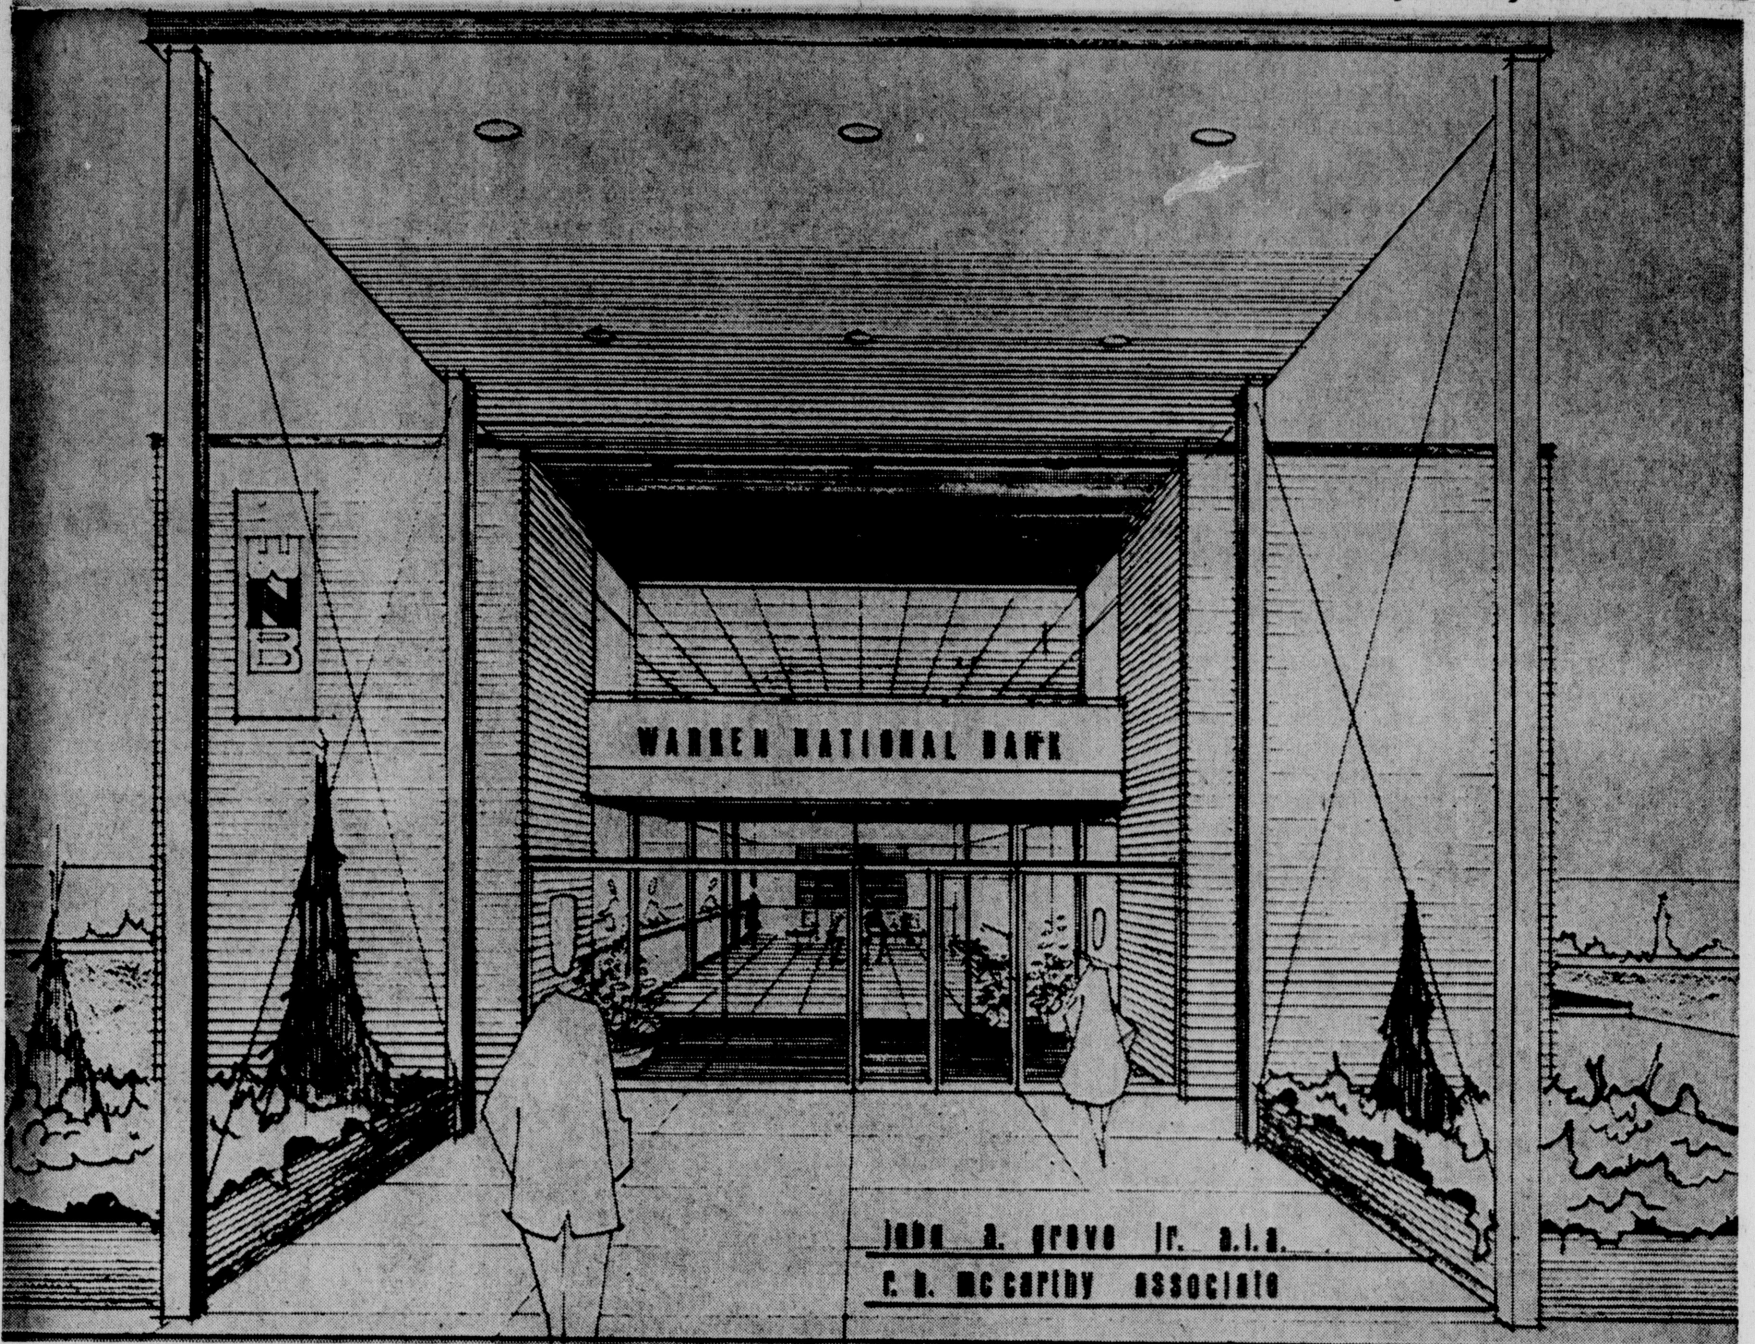

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — It was a quiet summer evening and Anne Mitchell, her mother and 4-year-old brother were out walking.

"Where is heaven?" the boy asked.

"It is thought to be somewhere above the skies," replied Mrs. Mitchell. "We don't really see it, but we believe it is there."

A moment later, the boy jumped up and down, announcing excitedly: "I see it! They left a light on," he exclaimed, pointing at a star.

NEW BRANCH BANK—These two architect's views show how the Warren National Bank's East Side drive-in branch will appear when it is completed. The upper photo shows the main walk-in entrance which will face Pennsylvania Ave. The other is an overall view, showing the large parking facilities available. The building was designed by R. H. McCarthy of Warren, an associate in the architectural firm of John A. Grove, Jr. Construction is to be of steel frame with glass, wood and antique brick exterior.

Warren National Bank Unveils East Side Branch Plans

Plans for the new East Side Branch Office of the Warren National Bank on the corner of Pennsylvania Avenue East and Cedar St., were revealed today by A.L. Rasmussen, president of the bank.

CONSTRUCTION on the site already has begun with completion expected this fall. At that time the staff and facilities now located at 311 Pennsylvania Avenue East will move across the street into the new two-story, completely air-conditioned structure.

The bank purchased five properties at the East Side location and tore down all existing buildings in order to provide a large area which will offer adequate off-street parking and a smooth traffic flow in and out of the drive-in windows.

THE PROPERTY is large enough, also, to allow room for future expansion of the branch bank and to permit proper landscaping as a transition between commercial and residential areas.

The building has been designed by R. H. McCarthy of Warren, associate of the architecture firm of John A. Grove, Jr. It will be of steel frame with glass, wood and antique brick exterior.

Inside construction includes wood paneling, sliding glass partition, and antique brick.

ON STREET level there will be two drive-in windows as well as a walk-up teller window which will be under cover and

PRIVILEGE CHANGED TO RESPONSIBILITY

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Privilege has been changed to responsibility at Yale's Commencement.

President Kingman Brewster Jr. made a slight but significant change in the traditional degree-awarding ceremony indicating how Yale's new president feels about the importance of education.

In the past, when the president of Yale conferred regular and honorary degrees at Commencement, he ended up his statement by saying that the degree holder is entitled to all "the rights and privileges" of a Yale degree.

Not any more.

The recipient is now entitled to all "the rights and responsibilities."

President Brewster, elected as 17th president of Yale last October, presided at his first Yale Commencement as president on Monday, June 15.

may be used before and after normal banking hours.

Inside the spacious main banking room will be the teller stations, two coupon spaces for customers using the safety deposit boxes, private offices and conference room for personal and business loan transactions.

A NEW NO-STEP automatic vault door and vault will also be provided for maximum security.

The second floor will include employees lounge and rest rooms, a fire-proof security vault for important bank records and adequate office space for the expansion of banking functions.

JAMES G. AKELEY is manager of the East Side Branch

Office and no change in personnel is expected when the new branch is opened this fall.

Warren, Forest, McKean and Elk counties.

Branches are maintained in Sheffield, Tionesta, Tidioute, Kane and Johnsonburg with three offices in Warren. Another branch office will be opened in Youngsville in the near future.

ON JUNE 30 this year, the Warren National Bank showed total resources of $63,805,675. The institution, organized 71 years ago, now has eight offices in Freund Marks 25th Year With Bell Telephone Co.

John R. Freund of 751 Jackson Avenue Ext., Warren, is celebrating his 25th anniversary with The Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania today.

Freund began his career with Bell in 1939 as a house service man in Erie. In 1941, he came to DuBois and has held various positions in the Plant Department since that time. He came to Warren in 1954 and is presently employed as wire chief.

Freund is a member of the Warren Chamber of Commerce and the Telephone Pioneers of America, the world's largest industrial social organization.

He is married and has three children, Sandra Lee, Bonnie Lynn and David John.

consideration for second spot on the ticket to be chosen at the Democratic national convention which opens Aug. 24 in Atlantic City, N.J.

In his spray-gun action Thursday only six hours after telling a quickie news conference he had not decided on a running mate, Johnson included on his non-candidate list all cabinet members and those in government who have access to the White House for such gatherings.

One of those personally notified, who wasn't given a chance for the nomination in any event, was Secretary of State Dean Rusk. Another who was accorded a personal "no, thanks" was Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

Commenting on his action, Johnson said he had decided it would be inadvisable to pick as a running mate any member of the cabinet or those who have cabinet status.

Aides said Johnson felt that all of these men were working so hard in essential jobs that their endeavors would suffer if they were called upon to take on the burden of campaign roadwork.

An Associated Press poll of convention delegates was released, by coincidence, at the time of Johnson's announcement. It showed that Humphrey was a 3-to-2 choice for vice president. He got 341 first choice votes. The attorney general, in second place, got 230.

Humphrey and McCarthy were searching their personalities to try to determine if they could fill Johnson's requirements that his running mate be attractive, prudent, progressive with a passionate consideration for the people's welfare and still be welcomed into every state of the union.

Humphrey has been anathema to many in the South because of his strong stand on civil rights, but has softened that opposition in recent years.

McCarthy, just as liberal as Humphrey, has not made much noise on major issues. But he is a Roman Catholic and the Republicans picked one of his faith for second place in naming Rep. William E. Miller of New York as their vice presidential candidate.

Humphrey issued a statement in which he said that "the matter of selection of a Democratic vice presidential candidate is in the hands of the President."

McCarthy said Johnson's announcement "obviously eliminates people who are in the cabinet and other offices he included." But McCarthy said the qualifications of "prudence and experience and acceptability" the President laid down "still apply to a very large number of people, both in and out of politics."

Kennedy said it was the President's responsibility to decide on his running mate.

Although adult retraining programs may be part of the school's curriculum, the majority of those attending will be from the upper three grades in high school. Mallory explained that 20 per cent of the county high school enrollment from these grades would fill the proposed school. Pupils would attend high school for half the time, and the remaining period would be spent in technical training.

MALLORY INSISTED that "no major groups in Warren County oppose the school." In fact, he said, most interested groups approve of it. The Industrial Division of the Warren Chamber of Commerce has urged the establishment of such a school "as soon as possible."

He concluded that the school is "a necessity for serving the over-all needs of the county and would supplement our community college program." Hopefully, he said, the technical school will emerge from the planning stage soon.

Regular meeting of Allegheny Valley School Board will be held Monday, Aug. 10th at 7:30 p. m. in Clarendon Borough School. RUTH CHAMPION, Sec'y.

State Police Probe Crash In County

Charges are pending against a Chandlers Valley man following a one-car accident at 8:50 p. m. yesterday on Miller Hill Road in Conewango Twp. A passenger in the car involved was treated at WCA Hospital in Jamestown (N.Y.) for back injuries.

STATE POLICE of the Warren substation stated that a car operated by Kenneth R. Gertsch, Chandlers Valley, traveling south on the Miller Hill Road went out of control and overturned on the west berm.

Injured was John Hodges, no address listed by police. Damage to the Gertsch car was estimated at $100.

TWO CARS were involved in a traffic mishap at 9:05 p. m. yesterday on Route 337, one mile south of Warren. Police said a car driven by Peter C. Smith, 1043 Fifth Ave., neglected to give a left turn signal and pulled into the path of a car operated by Edgar B. Burris, RD 1, Tidioute, in the process of passing the Smith vehicle.

Damage to both cars involved was estimated to total $300.

FOG WAS a contributing factor to a one-car traffic accident which occurred at 1:30 a. m. yesterday, five miles east of Sheffield on Route 6.

Police stated that a car operated by Margaret M. Lancaster, 231 Hamilton Road, Struthers, Ohio, traveling west on Route 6 in the fog, went off the highway, struck two guard rails and went over a bank into a nearby field. Police said that the operator lost sight of the road.

Damage to the Lancaster car was estimated at $800.

Letter to the Editor

form of government and socialism makes slaves of the entire population. Denmark is the most socialistic western nation and has the highest suicide rate of any western nation. Why? It may be because the freedom to struggle for a living is gone. Man has always been at his best when free to determine his own destiny. It was freedom to invent, freedom to fight the wilderness, freedom to earn as much money as possible, and the freedom to go bankrupt because of unwise decisions that made this country great. We grew into a mighty nation and were free from government interference in our lives. Maybe this is why we became the richest nation on earth.

At San Francisco, I believe we saw the beginning of that revolution that Dr. Judd talked about at Chautauqua. The signers of the Declaration of Independence pledged their Lives, Fortunes, and Sacred Honor to support the declaration that proclaimed a new basis for government. Our Constitution protects those rights that the drafters of the declaration claimed for us.

The Federal Government is slowly taking these rights away even though the Constitution guarantees them and the Supreme Court is to protect them. Article 17 of the constitution has to do with electing U. S. Senators and it states that the electors in each State shall have the qualifications requisite for the electors of the most numerous branch of the State Legislature. This means the States can choose members of the least numerous branch or the State Senate Supreme Court stated that all legislative members should be elected on the basis of equal population distribution. Other recent rulings of the Supreme Court indicate that it is interpreting the constitution in a very loose manner.

In 1776, our founding fathers rose up against the tyranny of King George. Are we weaker men than they were or are we going to rise up against the tyranny of Washington? Many of the signers of the Declaration of Independence lost their lives and fortunes. We can fight for better government without encountering such great risks.

Sincerely,
Robert H. Hedrick

TRANSPORTATION FOR THE TRANSPORTATION—Thirty-five Warren boys and girls set out this morning by bus for Chapman Dam, for their annual bike "hike" from the state park to Warren. Their transportation for the "hike" was transported to the park by members of the Warren Borough parks department. Loading the 35 bikes above are, left to right, John Marti, Recreation Director Fred Bell and Jerry Hanson. Officer Charles M u s a n t e was on hand to make sure that the bikes had been properly inspected and licensed. The youngsters will make the return trip to Warren this afternoon, preceded and followed by cars to warn motorists of the slow-moving bikes between them.

Ranger—

Dr. Homer Newell, associate administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, told the news conference that this was an historic occasion and that the laboratory had received congratulations from President Johnson for what Newell called "a textbook operation."

Ranger 7 smashed into the Sea of Clouds just below the equator on the left portion of the moon's lighted side. This is one of several vast plains on the moon surface, called seas because that's what they looked like to ancient astronomers.

It is in such an area that astronauts may land in a few years.

It was hoped today's photographs would show the kind of terrain they will encounter — whether it's rocky and jagged or dusty and smooth.

The first camera was turned on at 6:07 a. m. Pacific Daylight Time with the spacecraft 1,300 miles away. At 6:08, the Goldstone Tracking Station reported receiving picture signals from it.

Soon, signals were coming from all six cameras—two with wide-angle lenses and four with narrow-angle lenses.

It would be an indefinite time, however, before quality and content of the picture transmissions would be known.

The Soviets' Lunik III photographed the back side of the moon from 40,000 miles away in 1959, closest pictures until today.

Ranger 7 smashed into the Sea of Clouds just below the equator on the left side of the moon's lighted portion right on schedule at 6:25 a. m.

A great cheer went up from scientists and newsmen assembled at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory, which made and guided Ranger, at word of completion of the cliff-hanger mission.

It was the first success in a $200-million lunar investigation program that has seen 12 straight shots go awry. The latest, ranger 6, was most heartbreaking because it looked perfect until the final seconds when cameras wouldn't go on.

Ranger 7's two wide-angle cameras started functioning on command 16 minutes and 40 seconds before impact at an altitude of about 1,300 miles.

Four narrow-angle cameras started transmitting three minutes later.

A spokesman said there was no interruption during the entire transmission as the 806-pound insect-shaped spacecraft streaked toward the moon at 5,800 miles an hour.

Tracking experts said the straight - line distance to the moon at the time of impact was 228,686 miles.

Ranger's path to the moon was curved and it took 67 hours, 35 minutes to make the 243,665-mile flight.

Ranger 7 was launched Tuesday morning from Cape Kennedy, Fla.

Shortly after impact, Dr. William H. Pickering, director of the laboratory, broadcast over the intercom at the 4,000-man facility: "My thanks to all for a job well done."

The laboratory received severe criticism after the failure of Ranger 6. Both the Ranger 7 space vehicle and the laboratory's administrative setup received an overhaul. There were reports of further action if Ranger 7 failed.

The spacecraft's two wide-angle cameras were programmed to shoot 160 pictures, each at intervals of 2½ seconds; one covering an area 180,000 square miles, the other an area of 19,000 square miles.

The four narrow-angle cameras were to photograph areas of 12,500 square miles and 1,200 square miles, slightly overlapping within the area covered by the wide-angle cameras.

Just before impact one of the wide-angle cameras with a 25-mm lens was to have recorded an area of 3½ square miles. The other, with a 73mm-lens, had less than half a square mile to cover.

The narrow - angle cameras were expected to distinguish objects as small as an automobile just before impact. Their last pictures were to cover areas ranging from 4,350 square feet to 37,500 square feet.

Telescopes on earth have been able to distinguish no objects smaller than a quarter-mile wide. Such an object would be the size of a large aircraft carrier.

same time in 1963.

F. O. Koontz, board chairman, and Lee R. Forker, president, jointly reported that net sales for the first six months of 1964 totaled more than $33,955,000, an increase of about five per cent over last year.

NET PROFIT for the same period was about 41 per cent more than for the same period in 1963. This represents a new record of earnings per share on the shares then outstanding, in spite of slightly decreased average product prices.

Profit improvements resulted from increased sales revenue, from higher profit margin products and improved efficiency in marketing and refining.

The ratio of net profit to sales for the six-month period was 5.3 per cent compared with 3.9 per cent for the 1963 period. Current results included a marked improvement in this ratio which during the second period of 1964, was 6.35 per cent, up from five per cent in the same period last year.

Boy Admits Vandalism

A 13-year-old juvenile has admitted an act of malicious mischief committed in Brokenstraw Twp.

Deputy Sheriff Richard Hegerty stated that a complaint was received from Raymond Burr of Irvine, who reported that a homemade tractor used for farm cultivation had its motor, radiator and battery smashed.

The youthful offender upon questioning admitted inflicting the $75 worth of damage and was returned to the custody of his parents and will be referred to the probation officer for further action.

Committed to Boy's Industrial School in Oakdale for an indefinite period earlier this week was a 17-year-old juvenile with a long record of crimes.

State Police of the Warren substation stated that the Grand Valley youth, in addition to stealing from his grandmother, was charged with two counts of forgery, numerous burglaries in the area and the theft of two cars. He also had a past record of previous offenses.

award a contract for construction of recreation facilities at Kinzua Point.

And the chances are, he added, that the Army will acquire the few remaining lands needed for specific recreation projects along the western side of the reservoir in Pennsylvania.

These later will come under Forest Service jurisdiction.

The decision to place the Forest Service in charge of recreation at the reservoir is in line with a suggestion made by Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa.

He recommended that the Army Engineers develop the recreation potential of the dam proposed for the Raystown branch of the Juniata River in central Pennsylvania while the National Park Service handle recreation at the proposed Tocks Island National Recreation Area along the Delaware River in Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

The President's Advisory Council which acted on the recreation plan earlier this week is comprised of the secretaries of Agriculture, Defense, Interior, Welfare and Commerce and the administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Early Memorial Day exercises underscored the North's victory in the Civil War, but as new wars were fought, it became an occasion for honoring all Americans who died for their country.

SOCIETY

Grubers Have First Reunion

Fifty-two persons attended the first annual reunion of the Gruber family Sunday at the Charles Gruber summer home at Dunn's Eddy.

Members were present from Mayville, Sinclairville, Jamestown and Buffalo, N. Y.; Lander, Sugar Grove, Russell and Warren.

Swimming, boating, horseshoe pitching and other sports were activities for the day.

Heads Club

Mrs. Josephine Brian, wife of A 1/C Lawrence D. Brian of the 728th AC&W at Shaw Air Force Base, has been chosen president of the newly-elected officers of the USO Service Wives' Club in Sumter, S. C. Mr. Brian is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence P. Brian, 22 N. Carver St.

This is the only USO in the U. S. having a service wives' club, it is said. At present there are 33 members, with others joining weekly. The club's purpose is raising money to buy wheel chairs and other equipment for the local hospital and underprivileged children.

YW Events

Monday—2 p. m., Golden Age Society board meeting.

Sports Junket

When the top of your desk starts to look like you're trying to build another Berlin Wall, it's about time to clean off the top. Here's what we found this time:

Picture of the Summer Basketball League, a smart move on the part of Fred Bell's Recreation Program, in action...Pairings for the last Blueberry-Maplehurst golf match...A column clipped out of the New York Journal-American, the reason for which now escapes me...A story about Erie promoter Don Elbaum written by Murray Olderman, sports editor of NEA (from the story, he didn't meet the Don Elbaum we know)...Tee-off times for the first annual Jackson Valley Open...Results from both the Blueberry Hill and Industrial Golf Leagues...Notes from Stateline Speedway...A clipping from the Cory Journal showing their proposed municipal golf course...

Rules and Regulations for the 1964 Pennsylvania State Fishing Championship which will be held in Tidoute again, this year on Oct. 10-11...A note from Bob Eames about something that is going to happen on Blueberry Hill...A list of the City Softball all-stars...A press release from the Y-Bar-U Saddle Club of Russell (always liked that name)...A story about the Upper Allegheny Hot Stove League candy sale winners...The lineup for the Busy Bee Rejects (when is that second game goin' be?)...A press release from the Cleveland Indians about the tryout camp they held in Brockway...

A copy of Pa'thlete for June, 1964...The first half results in the Blueberry Hill Golf League...A post card from Little Falls, Minn., from Commissioner Nick Tomassoni (he vacationed out there this summer)...A trout stocking report...The Ladies' Day schedule for the Conewango Valley Country Club for 1964...A Jamestown telephone number for which there is no explanation...The June 1 edition of Pittsburgh Weekly Sports (a very good paper, by the way)...A letter from Pittsfield addressed to sports editor "Dave Ray"...A 1963 Dragon football schedule...A picture of Freddy Clark of Kiantone, N.Y., holding his Mid-Season Championship trophy after winning the race at Stateline last week...

About three-dozen letters which haven't been opened yet including some from the Steelers, Pirates, Indians, Eriez Speedway, Los Angeles Sporting Goods Company, Pennsylvania Fish Commission, University of Buffalo, Cincinnati Reds, Tri-City Speedway, New York Mets, Houston Colts, Buffalo Raceway, Trenton Speedway, Cleveland Browns, Minnesota Twins, Gannon College and the Associated Press...A pile of papers dating back almost two months...

Wayne Petracta, head football coach at St. Marys High School, has resigned. No successor has been named...The following poem was written by Herschel Nissenson of the Newark, N.J., AP bureau concerning the shortening of box scores carried by national wire services (which is being blasted fairly heavily by the nation's sports writers):

These were the saddest of possible words,
Tinkers to Evers to Chance;
Pulling off double plays smoother than birds,
Tinkers to Evers to Chance.
Now but a num'ral in agate-type face;
Nameless, a number has taken their place;
Shunted aside in the interest of space,
Tinkers to Evers to Chance.

Dick Peace, an umpire in local softball circles, has been having some trouble with teams concerning one of his calls, a call which, according to him, crops up quite a bit. The ruling concerning a runner heading into a base and what the runner should and should not do. If the runner holds up his hands or in any way tries to distract the man guarding the base—be it intentional or unintentional—Peace has been calling him out, calling it interference. He maintains that the runner must slide or keep his hands down. Hence, when he makes one of his calls, an argument usually pops up.

In an effort to back up his judgment, Peace wrote to the interpreter of the Wilson Rule Book in Cincinnati. Ray Ernst, Wilson's slo-pitch rules interpreter, wrote back saying:

"As the umpire, if you believe the action of a base runner is any kind of interference, intentional or not, you must call the base runner out."
Ernst also referred to Rule 4, Section 20: "Interference is any act of an offensive player which impedes, hinders, or confuses a defensive player while attempting to execute a play, again no intentional interference being necessary."

Jim Wick, who earned three letters as a center for the University of Buffalo football team from 1961-63, will assist head freshman coach Dewey Wade this season as a graduate assistant. Wick was one of the Bills' stars until a leg injury knocked him out of action. In addition, Wick has a permanent assignment that one UB official called "unique" for the school. He will be the area scout detailed to high schools and will visit local high school practice sessions to size up talent for college gridiron potential.

Move Past Idle Reds Into Third

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The on-rushing Pittsburgh Pirates are now in third place, four games out of first, and in good position to grab second place.

Pittsburgh jumped a half game ahead of Cincinnati, which was idle, by sweeping a two-night doubleheader Thursday from Houston, 1-0 and 8-3.

Tonight the second-place San Francisco Giants invade Pittsburgh for a four game series. They are only two and a half games ahead of the ambitious Pirates.

League-leading Philadelphia edged the Giants, 4-3, Thursday night.

Pittsburgh's twin-bill triumph, its first since May, was dominated by strong pitching. Vernon Law won the opener on a five-hitter. Don Schwall won the nightcap with some ninth-inning relief help from Alvin McBean.

Timely hitting by Bill Virdon and Jerry Lynch contributed to the sweep. Roberto Clemente gathered three hits in seven at bats.

This raised his National League-leading average to .346, a scant point better than Billy Williams of Chicago.

Law, a leading candidate for comeback-of-the-year honors, helped his own cause in the opener with a single in the sixth inning.

He advanced on Bob Bailey's sacrifice and scored on a single by Billy Virdon. Law, 9-8, was hooked up in a pitching duel with Bob Bruce, 11-5, who allowed only five hits.

A seven-run sixth inning in the nightcap iced the contest for Pittsburgh and gave the Pirates a sweep of the three-game series.

Lynch, who smacked his 12th season homer in the fourth to put Pittsburgh ahead 1-0, ignited the big inning by singling home the first two runs.

Schwall (3-1) picked up his first victory since being recalled from Columbus of the International League.

Joe Gibbon (7-4) hurled for Pittsburgh tonight against Ron Herbel (7-5).

BATTING — Bill White, St. Louis, drove in four runs with two singles and a sacrifice fly, leading the Cardinals to a 5-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs, their sixth straight triumph, longest in the National League this season.

PITCHING — Gary Peters, Chicago, shut out Detroit on three hits as the White Sox won 2-0. The victory was his 12th against five defeats.

REACHES FINALS IN GALS' TOURNEY—Mrs. Hal Conarro of Conewango Valley Country Club is shown putting the ball into the hole after missing a short putt on the 16th hole of the Merion East Course yesterday in the semi-final round of the Pennsylvania Women's Golf Championship. She rallied to defeat Josephine Smith of the home course 1-up on the 19th hole to gain a berth in the finals against Mrs. H. S. Semple of Allegheny Country Club, Sewickley. The two are meeting in a 36-hole final round today on the course. (See Story Below.)

'Cinderella' Trailing In Gals' Pa. Golf Bid

Has the clock struck twelve for Cinderella?

Warren's Mrs. Mary Conarro was tabbed with the name "Cinderella" by spectators, former competitors and newsmen after her appearance literally out of nowhere and suddenly vaulting into the finals of the Pennsylvania Women's Golf Championship.

However, after sweeping into the finals of the tournament being played at Merion Golf Club in Philadelphia, Mary fell seven strokes behind Mrs. Horton S. Semple after the first 18 holes of the final round.

Another 18 holes were to be played this afternoon.

Making her appearance in the state tournament, Mary became "the people's favorite" after depositing two former champions by the wayside.

Her opponent today in the final round has been the runner-up in the past two tournaments and also in 1955. She is from Allegheny Country Club, Sewickley.

Another Warren competitor in the tournament, Mrs. Anne Blackman, was defeated in the semi-finals of the third flight.

Mary, with a large gallery looking on including several relatives, complained about injuring her left wrist at one point in today's play.

Her husband, Hal, flew down last night after Mary earned a berth in the championship round. Also watching her today were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Edwards, her sister-in-law, Mrs. Mary Ann Edwards (the former Mary Ann Watt of Warren), and Mrs. Blackman.

Mary won the second hole and was one up at this stage of the game. Conarro carded a bogie six and Mrs. Semple took an eight. They halved the third hole and Semple evened up the match on the fourth.

From that point on, Conarro was unable to win another hole during the rest of the first round, and was three down after the front nine. Mrs. Semple took five straight holes starting on No. 7; they halved the third and Semple won 14 and 15 with the gals halving the final three.

At the end of 18, Mrs. Semple was only three over par for the course with a 78-medal score; 45 and 35; Conarro carded 45-39 for a medal 84.

Mary's ball landed in a trap on the third hole and complained that she had hurt her wrist hitting into the sand. Her husband went to a nearby drugstore and came back with a brace which Mrs. Conarro wore for two holes and then removed.

The only putt of any length sunk earlier today by the Warren golfer was on the sixth hole when she dropped a 22-footer. Mrs. Semple managed to hully the hole anyway so there was no advantage. Mary was driving well and keeping her ball in play but her tee shots fell somewhat short of her opponent's.

She was being consistently out-hit on every second shot to the green.

Since the beginning, the tournament had been running through "one day of upsets after another," according to the way one Philadelphia newspaper termed it.

Among those knocked out of the tournament in the earlier rounds were the defending champion, Alice Gray; Mrs. Charlotte Wilkie, medalist at 76; a former champion of the tournament no less than five times, Mrs. Helen S. Wilson; and former champions Mrs. John B. Kane, Mrs. John G. Capers Jr., Mrs. John Dyson, Jane Martin and Betty Abernathy.

Mrs. Semple defeated Mrs. Earl Scott of Philmont to gain her berth in the final round, 4 and 3. Mrs. Semple gained the lead in the match on the seventh hole and never was caught.

Cards for the first 18-holes in the 36-hole championship match were:

Conarro	465	754	554-45
	544	355	445-39 84
Semple	485	654	443-43
	434	344	445-35 78
Par	453	555	443-38

Phils Rally in 10th, Knock Off Giants, 4-3

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

John Briggs is a listening man's thinker.

In this case, Briggs, a Philadelphia rookie, was doing the thinking and the listening at the same time.

The mental feat, plus the two-run double that resulted from it, triumph over San Francisco in 10 innings Thursday night and boosted Philadelphia's National League lead to 1½ games over the second-place Giants.

The Phillies were in danger of tumbling from the top after the Giants took a 3-2 lead in their 10th. But Johnny Callison doubled, Tony Taylor was hit by a pitch and Richie Allen beat out an infield hit, all with none out.

Up came Briggs, using a different bat. It was Allen's longer and heavier bat, and the 20-year-old left-hander was trying it for the first time.

The ball shot out to the right field wall for a double, sending Callison and Taylor across with the tying and winning runs.

Not so fortunate was Casey Stengel, who celebrated his 74th birthday by watching his New York Mets lose to the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-3. Elsewhere in the NL, Pittsburgh moved into third place by sweeping Houston 1-0 and 8-3 and St. Louis defeated Chicago 5-2.

The Phillies led 2-1 until Willie McCovey smashed his 14th homer in the ninth inning with one out. San Francisco then went in front 3-2 in the 10th as Harvey Kuenn singled, took second on a wild pitch, went to third on a sacrifice and came home on a single by Willie Mays.

Gus Triandos homered for the Phillies in the third while Jesus Alou connected in the Giants' fifth.

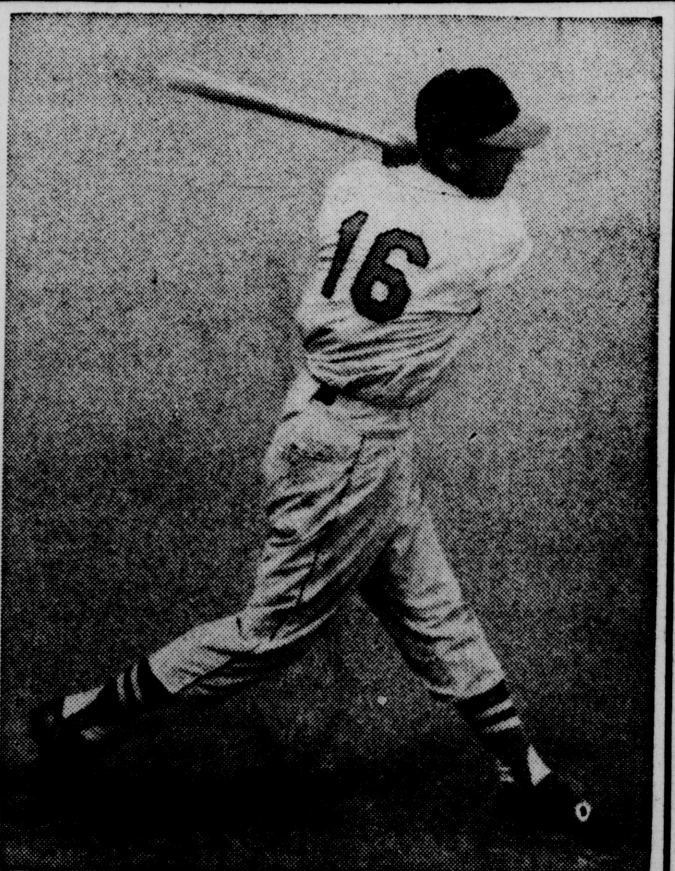

The Mets appeared well on their way toward handing Stengel a delightful birthday present, the first victory over Sandy Koufax in their brief history. Bob Taylor had given New York a 3-0 lead with a three-run homer in the fourth.

But the Dodgers scored two runs in the seventh on Jim Gilliam's single, Willie Davis' triple and an infield out, then tied the game in the eighth on a run-scoring double by Wally Moon, who batted for Koufax. The Dodgers rallied for two runs in the ninth. Tommy Davis driving in the winning tally with a single.

Bill White drove in four runs as the Cardinals increased their winning streak to six games, longest in the league this season. White singled across two runs in the third, knocked in another with a single in the seventh and sent home the fourth with a ninth-inning sacrifice fly.

Day Didn't 'Come to Play'

The only surprise in the Pennsylvania Fish Commission's refusal to rehire Albert M. Day as its executive director this week was the fact that the dismissal was so long in coming. Fishermen, who spend any amount of time along the Allegheny River or its tributary trout streams, have felt that Mr. Day just didn't fit. He didn't move. He stagnated. He didn't get involved.

It must be remembered that before Mr. Day arrived on the scene as the choice of a Clearfield County politician, noted for some zany fish and wildlife management schemes, the executive director was the vigorous "Bill" Voigt. Bill was impatient. He wanted to get things done. He saw that unless fishermen and boat owners had public access to waters of the state, and soon, it would do the license buyer little good to have that privilege if he could not get to the water and to the fish.

Under Mr. Voigt's leadership the commission bought public access and boat launching areas and built many lakes; Warren, Forest and Venango Counties have 14 such accesses. His vigorous leadership was not without bold and brave assertions. And Mr. Voigt said what was in his mind. He believed firmly there was much good fishing to be enjoyed at home. He rounded up several float trips from Warren to Franklin. For these and other river trips he recruited the state's most influential outdoor writers, and asked them to tell Pennsylvanians what was good and what was bad about their fishing programs. The story was told. He sold Pennsylvania to Pennsylvanians.

License Dip Not His Fault

But there arose political resentment. In came Mr. Day, perhaps qualified to a certain degree. To be truthful, Mr. Day arrived on the scene as state fishing license sales dipped. This was the period when fishermen objected to the almost ceaseless pollution of trout streams by the all-powerful strip miners. Trout streams were being lost. Boating boomed and water skiers cavorted with such abandon that other fishermen quit buying licenses rather than adjust their fishing periods. Boat law enforcement was ineffectual.

Mr. Day was accused this week of not being able to halt the decline in fishing license sales, of being unmoved by rampant stream pollutions and of planning to use Project 70 millions for administrative expenses instead of pouring them into improved fishing facilities. These jabs came from the all-powerful Allegheny County independent sportsmen's clubs which have been very successful in the clean streams fight and other conservation causes.

It is because Mr. Day was a "me-tooer" and for his refusal to get involved directly in pollutions that this reporter can quibble with his term. Take this matter of pollution: As recently as last June we complained in Linesville to a session of the Northwest Division, Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs, (Mr. Day was present with a whole host of dignitaries) that the Allegheny River has been undergoing for the last three years an increasingly extensive choke-off by aquatic weeds. We asked the delegates and the pollution committee to give this problem serious thought.

Mr. Day Didn't React

Mr. Day sat through our alarum apparently interested. But he did not get involved. He did not rise to acknowledge that the fish commission knew the problem, was studying it, would look into it. He said nothing. He offered no hope that his agency was even interested.

Mr. Day just wasn't getting involved. He didn't have the guts to stand up and tell Dr. Goddard of the State Department of Forests and Waters, last October during the fire ban on fishing that while a fisherman couldn't take his skiff out to Conneaut Lake, water skiers were beating the surface to a froth.

Northwestern Pennsylvania this year has already undergone at least six heavy pollutions which have killed millions of fish. It is true that the fish wardens run themselves ragged trying to track down the sources of the poisons. But has anyone heard of Mr. Day showing up at a pollution scene a few days later? Wouldn't his presence have added weight to the serious concern which must be felt when clean streams are used as disposals for our filth and poisons? When the commissioners get around to hiring Mr. Day's replacement we hope he's a man who'll not hesitate to get involved. We hope he "comes to play."

Fisher 2-Under at CVCC; Member-Guest Play Starts

Ross Fisher shot a brilliant two-under-par 34 yesterday afternoon at the Conewango Valley golfers entertained their guests for the member-guest tourney which opened this morning and continues through tomorrow.

Tim Creal, now back on the beam after an inactive spring and summer, turned in a smart par 36. Emmy Morrison won the medal play tourney with a net 39.

"Uncle Miltie" Dahler shot 39 to lead the second flight, followed by Carl Mazzu's 40. Bob Alexander and Sam Rasmussen won the handicap event in that flight.

In the third flight Barrister O'Sheill and Bob Walsh tied with 42s and Bill Walker had 44 for second. "Duke" Lundahl was the handicap winner.

Harry Barley won the fourth with a 44 and Johnny Fanaritis had a 45. Carl Lundahl and Joe Gobliger took the tournament. In the fifth it was Hans Link with a 45 with Tony Lucia and Dr. John Robertson second with 49s. Lyle Knapp won the special event.

The kicker's was taken by Fanaritis, Tom Atwell, Bob Alexander and Carl Lundahl.

Bill Rice made two almost successful attempts to sink a hole in one on No. 7 short hole. On the front nine his tee shot hit about six inches short of the hole, took its bounce and spun back to hang on the lip. The back nine saw Rice fire a second shot at the same hole but this time he missed by less than a foot.

The guest tournament was won by Steve Bishop of Moonbrook and Joe Brindis. Net winners were Veto Brindis, Joe Berger and R. Watson. Don Lester, Park Cathpole, Bob Thompson and Joe Scalise won the guests' kicker.

Lions Lead Playoff

The Lions Club of Warren took the first game of the Intermediate playoff from American Legion on War Memorial field last night with three runs in the eighth inning to win, 4-1. Mike Spinney was the winning pitcher with 11 strikeouts and Bob Mira pitched a superb job in relief of Spinney in the eighth. Ed Christenson was the losing hurler in relief of Roy Swanson who struck out 12 men for the night.

With the score tied at one apiece in the eighth inning Alex Bowler got on via an error. Spinney, seeing the chance to make this break pay off, cracked a solid double to center and thus putting two men on base. Phil Simmons raked in two RBI's with a shot single into left field. On the play to the plate Simmons advanced to third as the catcher let the ball slip through his legs. Bud Ericson followed up with a run producing blow in the gap.

Mira came on in relief of Spinney and struck out one man and got the other two on easy pop ups. Paul Arsenault ripped a double for the only extra base knock for the losers. Bowler made a fine over the shoulder catch in the sixth inning to stop a would-be extra base blow. The second game will be played on Tuesday night on the same field.

one game apiece with a 5-2 victory. Dave Freeborough pitched and hit his team by their opponents with a three-hitter. In the hitting end of the game, Freeborough smashed a homer. Randy Honhart was the hero of the game for the winners when he cracked a bases loaded triple in the bottom of the sixth inning to win the game. Freeborough's clout came with a man on in the fourth inning of play. Now that the series is evened up at a game apiece, the big rubber match will be played on Monday night at Lacy field.

Battle for First

Timmis Bros. and Northwest Savings & Loan continue to battle it out for the first place championship as each team brings the Midget League race right down to the wire. Both teams have the identical record of 13-2 with one game to play. Timmis will play tomorrow night and Northwest Savings and Loan will play their last game of the regular season on Monday night.

The Timmis team won their thirteenth last night with a 15-1 decision over Newell Press behind the two-hit pitching of Jon Loranger and Terry Quiggle. Jon Belleau supplied all the power at the plate with a grand slammer and a two-run round tripper to knock in seven big runs. Tom Carlson also cleared the sacks with a solo blast. Tim Greenlund collected a double and triple for the night and Bill Rowan and John Loranger also got in the act with doubles.

Segels Post Victory

Youngsville American Legion defeated Style Shop last night by a score of 3-2 and dimmed the chances of a second-half championship for the Stylers as Larry Persing reached near perfection in tossing a one-hitter and striking out 12 men.

Persing also cracked a three-bagger and Chuck Sample went 2-3 with a double. Bill Slocum doubled and stole home for the winners. Dail Swanson drove in two runs with a single. Doug Solock was the losing hurler for the Style Shop. The Style Shop will host Betts Machine Shop on War Memorial on Monday night.

Style Shop Downed

Dan Pasquarette hit and pitched his way to a 7-2 victory over Blue Manor in Midget League action. Pasquarette fanned 14 batters and blasted a homer to assist his own cause. Jim Pasquarette contributed a double for the winners. Spiridon had a triple and Morelli a double for the losers.

Pa. '33' Coach Confident His Team Will Win

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — "We weren't ready Sunday, and we weren't ready Wednesday, but we're ready now."

With these words, Coach George (Lefty) James sized up Pennsylvania's chances against Texas in the Big 33 high school all-star football game here Saturday.

James, who usually reserves his compliments until after victory has been assured, gave his Pennsylvania squad a high praise following a workout Thursday.

"We had only two busted plays all day," James said. "All we can do now is add a little poise and polish."

James said he was especially pleased with the way his boys kept their poise in the face of the fine early showing by what he termed "this more mature Texas team." The team is coached by former National Football League quarterback Bobby Layne.

James, former coach at Cornell, announced his starting lineups, except for a quarterback. He indicated that decision would be reached after the final workout today.

James selected Dan Lycyk of Mahanoy Area as starting full-back offensively. The halfbacks will be Roger Grimes of Cornwall and either Bob Baxter of Nesheim or Mike Condo of Bald Eagle Area.

Curtis Carlson Awarded Medal By Rifle Assn.

Curtis Amil Carlson of 213 North Irvine St. became one of America's top riflemen, the National Rifle Association announced today, as the shooter was awarded the Distinguished Expert Medal, highest rifle qualification award in the nation.

The new high ranking shooter, to join the country's select group of high ranking marksmen, had to shoot hundreds of targets over a period of several months and climb through 14 lower qualification NRA ratings.

The new distinguished expert shooter is a member of the Warren Area Senior High School Junior Rifle Club under the direction of E. Ross Carlson, who also happens to be the youngster's father.

Psychology Backfires, Indians Drop Another

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Birdie Tebbetts is a master of psychology — only sometimes the psychology backfires. That's what happened to the Cleveland manager Thursday night when Washington defeated the Indians 8-7.

Tebbetts shook up his club with a rash of fines and then the Indians shook up the Senators with a rash of runs. Cleveland had scored six times before most Washington fans were settled in their seats and Tebbetts was congratulating himself for waking up his team.

Unfortunately, the Indians also woke up the Senators. When Washington came back with seven runs in the sixth and added some clutch relief pitching by Jim Hannan and Ron Kline, Tebbetts and the Indians were back where they started — on the short end.

Two-run singles by Joe Cunningham and Dick Phillips were the key blows in the Senator spurge which put Washington on top. Hannan, who came on after the Indians hopped on Al Koch for five singles and a homer by Vic Davalillo in the first, pitched five shutout innings. The Indians got a run in the eighth and loaded the bases with two out in the ninth on three walks before Kline came on to end it.

It was the sixth straight loss for the Indians and fourth straight victory for Washington. And it left Tebbetts wondering what a team has to do to win a ball game.

Elsewhere in the American League, Baltimore belted Minnesota 7-4 and Chicago blanked Detroit 2-0 in the only other games scheduled.

Gary Peters, who has been doing some fancy hitting for the White Sox, left the run-making to Bill Skowron and concentrated on pitching. His three-hitter stifled the Tigers and ran his record to 12-3.

Skowron produced both Chicago runs with a sixth inning triple as the third place White Sox moved two games back of the idle New York Yankees.

Runner-up Baltimore trimmed the Yankee margin to a half game by stealing some of Minnesota's thunder with a five home run barrage. Jackie Brandt connected twice and Earl Robinson, Dick Brown and Brooks Robinson had one apiece for the Orioles, who tied a club record for homers in one day.

Rookie Dave Vineyard won his second straight for the Orioles but needed ninth inning help from Stu Miller after Ron Henry smacked a pinch two-run homer.

Pine Grove Club Sees Films on Eastern Turkey

The July social meeting of the Pine Grove Sportsmen Club was held in the clubhouse Tuesday with Don Cable presiding in the absence of the president, Dr. Ward Sharp.

Dave Titus, game protector, was present and showed a film on the eastern wild turkey and how they have been bred to make them wild. He also showed slides on rattlesnakes he has captured in area woods.

Titus also answered questions on a discussion of the present game seasons. Following the meeting, charcoal hot dogs and coffee was served by Paul Font, Tom Font and Dale English.

Dances were performed by the Hicks and Chicks and the Bob-A-Lees, western square dance clubs, with Bob Ballard as the caller. The patients were then invited to join the fun and shown how to execute some of the fancy steps. —Timesphoto by Bigelow

White Migrants in Chicago Find Life's Just as Hard in Big City

CHICAGO (AP) — For thousands of Southern Appalachian white persons a journey northward represents the hope of an end to poverty and deprivation. But for many of the 25,000 migrants living in Chicago, the city has meant only continued despair. Uneducated, unskilled and unaccustomed to city ways, the migrants find the transition from backwood to urban setting almost impossible.

Men In Service

James E. Shafer, electrician's mate 1/C, USCG, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle E. Shafer, 344 E. Fifth Ave., recently participated in the southeastern regional high-power rifle championship with the All-Coast Guard rifle team at Fort Benning, Ga.

The rifle team is in training for the national championship matches to be held at Camp Perry, Ohio, later this year.

antipoverty bill is aimed at correcting the economic conditions that drive the migrants northward. But the dislocated migrants also have become a welfare problem in Chicago, where they have settled in a five-mile-long, one-mile wide area on the North Side known as Uptown.

"One of the biggest problems for the migrant is exploitation," said Dewey W. Wood, director of the Chicago office of the Council of the Southern Mountains.

"The migrants pay $27 to $35 dollars a week rent for unbelievable apartments. Often four families (of six or seven persons each) share the same bathroom," Dewey said.

Exploitation, added to the higher cost of living in the North, often offsets extra wages the migrants may earn.

Wood says many of them would be better off at home in the "security of their cathedral mountains." But, he asks, "what more incentive to migrate would any of us need if our cash income for an entire 12 months was $600?"

Torn between the better jobs of the North and the yearning for the hills of West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee, the migrants often pack up and go south again, only to return the next week.

"Back home," Wood said, "they can squat on their haunches for hours on the porch of the County court house, but as soon as a number of them congregate on a corner here, they're picked up for loitering."

Today in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — By a vote of 373 to 1, the House has passed a bill to establish a national wilderness preservation system.

The measure, passed in a similar form by the Senate, now goes to conference to work out differences between the two versions.

Only Rep. Joe Pool, D-Tex., opposed the bill.

Under the wilderness system, at least 9.2 million acres of federal land would be protected against most commercial uses so their natural conditions can be preserved. Another 5 million acres, designated as primitive lands, may be included later in the wilderness system.

The bill allows some livestock grazing, mining and prospecting on wilderness land.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is understood to have insisted on Communist withdrawal from newly conquered Laotian territory as one condition for a new international conference on the prolonged crisis in the Southeast Asian country.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk called Soviet Minister-Counselor Georgi M. Kornienko to the State Department Thursday to give him the U.S. answer to the Soviet proposal Sunday for a new 14-nation conference on Laos.

In making the proposal, the Soviet Union warned that it might resign its role as co-chairman with Britain if there was not some effort to get a conference organized.

WASHINGTON (AP) — John E. Grenier, 33, a Birmingham attorney and Alabama Republican chairman, has been named to succeed William S. Warner as executive director of the Republican National Committee.

Grenier, named Thursday by GOP National Chairman Dean Burch, served as southern regional chairman of the Goldwater-for-President Committee.

Warner was named earlier in the day as campaign chairman for Rep. William E. Miller, the Republican candidate for vice president.

Truax Aims To Broaden GOP Appeal

HARRISBURG (AP) — Republican state Chairman Craig Truax announced plans today for a state wide drive to broaden GOP appeal and strengthen leadership at the teen-age level.

A Republican youth training seminar will be held at Pennsylvania State University Aug. 23-29 for more than 100 outstanding Republican teen-agers, Truax reported.

"Republican philosophy and policy will be explained," he said. "We want those attending the week-long meeting to understand our party's action plans for the future."

Truax said the seminar's program was designed to give teen-age participants an academic approach to politics and government backed up by guide lines for achieving success when they seek practical experience in the field of politics.

Classes will be held in politics and government, a model congress will be set up and plans will be laid for organizing teenage Republicans across the state.

Dr. Kenneth Palmer and Dr. Wallace Brewster, professors of political science at Penn State, and Dr. Philip Eyrich, of Albright College, will be among the speakers.

Frank O'Gorman, former professor of English at Scranton University and administrative assistant to U.S. Rep. Joseph McDade, R-Pa., will direct the seminar.

World News in Brief

CAIRO (AP) — Two students were stabbed to death Thursday and 16 others were wounded in a battle between two political factions from Chad in the dormitory of Al Azhar University.

Police said students supporting the ruling party in the former French African territory got into a bitter argument with a group backing the opposition. About 100 students were involved.

Al Azhar is the world's chief Islamic educational institution.

LONDON (AP) — Cambia, Britain's last colony on the African West Coast, gets its independence Feb. 18 with an uncertain future ahead of it.

Colonial Secretary Duncan Sandys announced the date Thursday after a conference with the territory's leaders. The colony, one of Britain's oldest and smallest in Africa, is about the size of Vermont and is surrounded on three sides by Senegal, a former French colony. It has 250,000 inhabitants.

RFK Is Philosophical About Being Dumped

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy unloaded a major understatement Thursday with a single word.

A Brazilian visitor asked him of his prospects for the Democratic vice presidential nomination.

"Slight," Kennedy said with a small smile.

The significance escaped those in the room. They were accustomed to throwaway answers to the question that had been asked of Kennedy countless times since his brother, President John F. Kennedy, was assassinated eight months ago.

Fifty-five minutes later, his message came through. President Johnson suddenly dropped Kennedy and others from his list of vice presidential possibilities.

Kennedy reportedly had received the news in person at the White House hours earlier. When it became public, Kennedy's future became more puzzling.

He has been riding high, along with Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, in the vice-presidential preference polls. Audiences here and abroad shrieked his name and clamored for his attention.

Those close to Kennedy say he felt the Republicans' nomination of Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona diminished the chances Johnson would call on him. The attorney general has no illusions about his lack of popularity in the Deep South, where Goldwater hopes to fashion support for his states rights positions.

But friends who hoped Kennedy would be tapped professed time and again that the 38-year-old attorney general could give Johnson the most help in the highly populated Northeast.

That Johnson would concur was their fondest hope — until Thursday. And their gloom was evident.

Morse Says LBJ Can Pick Own VP

YORK, Pa. (AP) — Democratic State Chairman Otis B. Morse Thursday night pictured President Johnson as probably more capable than anyone else to choose his vice presidential running mate for the fall election.

Morse had been asked to comment on the President's announcement that he had eliminated six men, including Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, as vice presidential possibilities.

"No one, with the possible exception of former president Truman, understands more than Johnson the responsibility that may fall on a vice president," the state Democratic leader said when reached at his home.

He was referring to the fact that both Harry S. Truman and President Johnson were vice presidents who assumed the office of president upon the deaths of Franklin D. Roosevelt and John F. Kennedy.

Morse said he believed Pennsylvania's delegation to the Democratic national convention in Atlantic City, N.J., next month would support the president's choice of a vice presidential running mate.

Your Forest Ranger

By L. E. STOTZ

A loaf of bread might not seem worth writing about in a newspaper column, but at 10 o'clock in the morning bread is the motivating force in the village of Chaingy as it is in thousands of other villages throughout France.

IF YOU COULD sit with me under the linden trees in the village square and watch the procession of people hurrying to the Boulangerie Patisserie, or Bake Shop, you would appreciate the Frenchman's fondness for the native bread.

The villagers and outlying farmers come on foot, on bicycles, and on motor bikes. I am convinced that no one in France bakes bread at home any more.

A BLOND French soldier carrying a brightly colored basket filled with warm bread steps out of the bakery. Little old ladies riding bicycles or shuffling along stiff-jointed in shoes that appear too large for them converge on the shop. Dressed all in black, from their ill-fitting stockings to the shawls on their heads, they exchange the latest gossip as they stand in line waiting to make their purchases. A small boy breaks his long loaves of bread across his knee so that they can be carried on his bicycle without blocking traffic when he pedals down the narrow road.

I have seen bakery clerks at home struggle to wrap loaves of French bread—a nearly impossible task. The native bread of France is not meant to be wrapped. To attempt to do so is to commit a sacrilege—like attempting to hide a pretty girl's face with a dark veil.

PURCHASED while it is still hot from the oven, a loaf of native bread delights all five senses. Take the crust with its varying shades of golden brown. What a pleasure it is to feast the eyes upon it. The sense of touch as one grasps the sturdy slender loaf is stimulated by the earthy feel of it. Break the loaf apart and the crisp crackling noise as the crust shatters, is a sound long worth remembering. Now smell the warm fragrance of the soft white interior. Finally bite into a chunk of it and taste the rich nut-like flavor. Truly this is the staff of life beside which most other food is poor fare.

In America we have become so germ conscious that a loaf of bread wrapped in its wax paper sarcophagus and machine-sliced reaches the customer untouched by human hands. That it is free of holes, is uniform in texture, and meets strict tear tests is pointed out with pride by the advertisers of the product.

In contrast the native bread of France, like the best Swiss cheese, is full of holes. These holes are the village baker's pride.

ONE DAY in the waiting room of the Austerlitz Railroad Station in Paris I saw an old couple enjoying a cold supper of bread, meat and wine. The old fellow, his mouth hidden by his heavy pepper-gray mustache sat with his stout red-faced wife on a crowded bench. Each was armed with a wicked looking knife for hacking off wedges of meat and chunks of bread. A bottle of cheap wine rested on the floor between them, and they took turns lifting it to their lips. They were obviously enjoying their meal and the long loaf of bread that they consumed contributed to this enjoyment. The meal would not have been complete without it.

The fields of wheat that surround Chaingy are the color of the native bread now and are ready for the harvest. The long bearded heads of wheat that bow in the wind have taken their fill of the lazy days of golden sunshine. Soon they will be ground into flour the whiteness of snow, and the village bakeries will complete the cycle from seed to harvest to flour to the long loaves of bread that make up the staff of life for the people of France.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

(Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.)

FOR SATURDAY, AUGUST 1

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — Plan your schedule early, and only deviate where a better arrangement is presented or discovered. Apply brakes sensibly in pleasures, risky activities.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) — Venus in beneficent position. Romance and artistic pursuits favored. Re-examine your long-range projects and put them on a business-like basis.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — Some contention may be prevalent now. Steer carefully from it, and anything else unworthy of your fine mind and better instincts. If usefully busy, you will enjoy the day.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer) — Work constructively, but insert a novel twist into routine to relieve monotony and make it attractively pleasing. You may renew a friendship.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) — Solar aspects now urge you to be tenacious in application, constructive in plan. Method and flexibility both needed. Radiate cheer and others will follow suit.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo) — Do not let the unfamiliar keep you from accepting it on that basis alone. Where you carefully check for errors and find none, invite the innovation.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — You can have a productive, enjoyable day if doing your best. But don't undertake a schedule so exacting that it leaves no time for creative ideas or relaxation.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 23 (Scorpio) — With little planetary help, it will be up to you how you handle your work and how smartly you manage your personal affairs. Accept obligations graciously, carry through promptly.

NOVEMBER 24 to DECEMBER 23 (Sagittarius) — Suggest a conference if you feel (or others do) that improvement would be advanced; be motivated only by your highest ideals, and faith in others' good will. Mixed influences.

DECEMBER 24 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — Investigate all angles of any new proposition offered, but don't fear the unknown; just get better acquainted with its possibilities — or lack of them. Especially favored: Scholar, student, traveler.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — Make the most of your really bright ideas and concise, solid plans for achievement now. Accentuate positive thinking. Combine know-how with intuition.

Mother Fails To Save Five Kids from Fire

BALTIMORE (AP)—A mother tried in vain to save five of her children, all under 8 years old, who perished in a fire that swept their home Thursday.

* Found dead huddled in a corner of their third-floor apartment were Cassandra Jane Clark, 7; Beverly, 6; Duane, 3; Reginald, 4; and Fannie, 3, all children of Mrs. Norma Jean Clark, 31.

* The mother, who was on the first floor, said flames from the second floor repulsed her attempts to climb the stairs to her trapped children.

* A 10-year-old daughter, Veronica, escaped from the house and another child, Floyd Jr., 12, was not at home when the fire started.

Franklin Hospital Is Given Grant

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Franklin, Pa., Hospital will receive a $723,333 grant from the Welfare Department toward construction of a 118-bed addition.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., announced Thursday that the Welfare Department had approved the grant.

Total cost of the project is estimated at $1,269,999. The project will include new emergency and outpatient departments.

Victims of alcoholism often experience blackouts—complete loss of memory for hours or days at a time.

Goldwater Rests at Plush Resort

MONTE RIO, Calif. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, Republican presidential candidate, relaxed today in Caveman's Camp at the exclusive Bohemian Grove.

Here among the towering trees, Goldwater is spending a couple of days as the guest of retired Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer and Herbert Hoover Jr.

The senator's sons disclosed earlier that their family was fearful of an assassination attempt on his life. Barry Jr., 26, and Mike, 24, said at the close of their Hawaiian vacation Wednesday that extra security measures have been taken to protect their father's life.

Barry Jr. told newsmen in Honolulu that though "loyal, devoted and fervent people" were working for his father's elective, some "rabid and venomous people" were dedicating themselves to his defeat.

He said there is "always the possibility that someone may make the attempt to kill dad. It's just one of those things we have to live with."

When Goldwater flew in from Washington late Thursday he made it clear he was on vacation.

A group of newsmen, who had flown across the continent in a commercial plane ahead of Goldwater, was at the Santa Rosa Airport waiting for the GOP presidential nominee when he arrived in a private, two-engine plane.

Goldwater told them, "There'll be no press conferences."

Vandals Rip Bridge Deck In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Vandals ripped out trolley car rails and wooden planks from a wooden bridge Thursday where some residents had set up a blockade earlier in the day.

Police said the two incidents were not related.

About 200 persons picketed the Glenwood Bridge, refusing to let pedestrians or vehicles cross. The bridge crosses the Monongahela River and connects the city's Hazelwood and Hays sections.

After vandals damaged the 70-year-old bridge, Police Supt. James W. Slusser declared the structure impassable and ordered it closed.

The residents were protesting what they called a stall on the part of the State Highways Department in the construction of a proposed $18 million bridge to replace the present one. Piers for the new span were installed adjacent to the old bridge in 1961.

One Miner Killed, One Hurt by Fall

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP)—A roof fall at a coal mine Thursday killed George H. Phillips, 60, of Gray, Somerset County, and injured his brother, John, 53, of Jennerstown, Somerset County.

John Phillips was treated at Westmoreland Hospital and released. The accident occurred at the Laurie Mining Co. mine, four miles west of Greensburg.

Cigarette Blamed For Hotel Blaze

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A cigarette left burning in a sixth floor room probably started an estimated $75,000 fire in the Sir Francis Drake Hotel, Fire Chief William Murray said.

More than 110 firemen from 24 companies confined the blaze to three rooms Thursday. Seven persons suffered smoke inhalation.

Forest Service Nature Programs Are Popular with Campers at Twin Lakes

Campers at Twin Lakes are enjoying an added benefit again this season with the U.S. Forest Service nature programs in full swing.

THE PROGRAMS, which began in June and will end Labor Day, are held in the evenings and attended by an average of 150 persons nightly.

Audiences have been treated to a wide variety of subjects, from tiny aquatic life in streams to live snakes and birds. In addition to the formal talks and color films, visitors have enjoyed a tour of the Johnsonburg paper mill, a fossil hunt at the Wetmore coal recovery project, and numerous bird and nature hikes around Twin Lakes.

ACTIVITIES and planing are in the hands of Stuart Bailey and Barry Nehr of the Ridgeway Ranger District, who report that they are pleased with the response of the programs.

When asked why the Forest Service spends time and money thus to entertain visitors to Twin Lakes, they point to the objectives in their handbook:

—TO USE interpretation and information as a means of developing with visitors to the National Forest system and Forest Service research facilities a better understanding and appreciation of forest resources and the products and uses of forest lands, multiple use management, natural resource conservation and the need for it, natural and human history of the area, various recreational opportunities in the National Forests and National Grasslands, U.S. Department of Agriculture and Forest Service responsibilities and activities.

—To obtain greater public cooperation in protecting National Forests resources and facilities from fire and vandalism, preventing stream pollution and keeping all outdoor areas clean of litter.

—TO ADD to visitors' enjoyment of the National Forest.

—To stimulate visitors' curiosity and satisfy the desire for understanding of natural resources and their relationship to man's environment.

From the conversations and attitudes shown by visitors as they enjoy the nature programs, aBiley and Nehr say, these objectives are being met and are very encouraging in the planning of future activities.

GHOST TOWN—Only a few abandoned houses remain of what used to be a thriving tannery community. This is what is left of Morrison, once a flourishing business community. Beaten and faded by the elements, these houses, some of which still contain articles of furniture, stand as somber reminders of a better past.

'Operation Big Cleanup' Begins At Boy Scout Jamboree Campsite

PHILADELPHIA — Operation Big Cleanup has been underway all this week after 53,000 Boy Scouts and leaders headed home from a week-long jamboree at Valley Forge.

PULLING UP stakes was a major operation. The boys had to get 30,000 two-man tents back to local troops all over the country. And tables, food lockers, troop gateways, cooking and tent - erecting paraphernalia, sports and camping equipment, and personal baggage.

The Pennsylvania Railroad helped 25,000 Scouts riding the rails by loading baggage onto PRR trucks at the campsite.

BUT GETTING the Scouts out was the easiest job. The big job is putting the state park into condition after 53,000 running, marching, jumping feet ground it into a partial dustbowl.

The clean-up is under the direction of jamboree construction director Stanley M. Hawkins, who spent six months preparing the park for the Scout onslaught.

Now he expects to take three months making it look as though nothing has happened since Washington and his troops pulled out in 1778.

THE 55,000 FEET of water pipe and eight miles of electrical wire will remain in their foot deep trenches crisscrossing the park in anticipation of the next jamboree, but the 250 telephone poles erected for the occasion will come down as will the 3,100 staff and equipment tents set up by the Army.

A hundred Army men have arrived for 10 days of pulling down the tents and leveling the embankments built up for the rifle range.

PRIVATE contractors are picking up stone driveways, knocking down wooden structures and filling in holes made by water from the 46 jamboree shower houses.

Aug. 22 an auction will be held at the park to get rid of lumber, benches, picnic tables, garbage cans, water pails and other material used in setting up the jamboree.

THEN HAWKINS will have to ship back the equipment lent by the Army—20 railroad cars filled with over $1 million worth of tents, rifles, trucks, jeeps, beds, blankets and cots.

Once the area is cleared the state will reseed the grassless areas in October for next summer.

People in the News

OTTAWA (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip will spend Canada's Thanksgiving Day holiday in Ottawa, and informants say the queen may be asked to open a session of Parliament.

Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson announced in Commons Thursday that the queen and Prince Philip will visit Ottawa. It was announced some months ago that Elizabeth would visit Charlottetown and Quebec City to mark the centennial of the 1864 pre-confederation conferences there. The Ottawa visit will be an extension of that trip.

The royal couple will be in Charlottetown Oct. 6-7, then travel by yacht to Quebec City for ceremonies there Oct. 10. They will fly to Ottawa Oct. 11 and leave Oct. 13.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Singer Edie Adams, widow of comedian Ernie Kovacs, has told friends she will marry Martin Hager Mills, executive of a music publishing company, Aug. 16 at Miss Adams' home in Beverly Hills.

WARSAW (AP) — Wladyslaw Gomułka, chairman of the Polish Communist party, and Premier Jozef Cyrankiewicz are vacationing in the Soviet Crimea, say diplomatic sources.

There was no official confirmation. Government spokesmen and the press normally do not announce the whereabouts of Communist officials.

Kiwanis International was founded in 1915 at Detroit.

Scranton Asks for State Republican Platform

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton has asked his staff to draft a state Republican platform for the fall campaign, but the document, according to one spokesman, will not be aimed at disassociating Pennsylvania candidates from GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater.

"It will be aimed at providing a platform for the state party to run on," said A. James Reichley, Scranton's legislative secretary who is writing the proposed document. "Primarily, it will concern itself with state issues, but probably contain a section on national problems as well."

Reichley was unable to say whether the state platform would include Scranton-backed planks for the national platform which were rejected at the Republican convention at San Francisco.

These included a denunciation of such groups as the John Birch Society, the Ku Klux Klan and the Communist Party; a pledge for strict enforcement of the federal civil rights law, and a pledge to continue control of atomic weapons in the hands of the President.

"We feel the national platform is good," said Reichley, "but it could have gone somewhat further than it does. We don't want to take anything out of the national platform, but we may add some things if we feel it...necessary."

Reichley said he would submit his proposed platform to Scranton. If approved by Scranton, it must then go before the Republican State Committee, hopefully around Labor Day.

As for civil rights, Reichley said he was sure there would be a civil rights section in the state platform. "But it will not conflict with the national plank."

"I have a feeling it will deal largely with what more the state can do to insure civil rights," he said. "For that matter, our state law is stronger in most respects than the federal law."

Work on the platform has been underway since the beginning of this week. Reichley has asked all departments for suggestions on state legislation. "In general," he said, "it will be patterned after our 1962 platform (a non-presidential year)."

"We plan six regional sections, dealing with Philadelphia, the southeastern counties, Pittsburgh the Anthracite region, our Apalachia counties and the northwestern counties," Reichley added.

World News in Brief

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The cholera epidemic is spreading in central India, with 202 deaths reported since July 1.

A government spokesman said the outbreak has spread into two more districts of Maharashtra State, about 200 miles northeast of Bombay, despite more than 250,000 inoculations.

James M. Landis, Adviser To Presidents, Found Dead

HARRISON, N.Y. (AP) — James M. Landis, 64, adviser to three Democratic presidents, was found dead in the swimming pool at his home Thursday night.

One of President Franklin D. Roosevelt's original "brain trusters" in 1933, Landis' final government post was as adviser on government regulatory agencies to President John F. Kennedy.

He was dean of Harvard Law School from 1937 to 1946.

In his early Washington days he was known as hard driving, a chain smoker and a good card player. He also had tramped over every Civil War battlefield.

A neighborhood boy found the body and tried artificial respiration. Landis was wearing swimming trunks. He had a history of heart trouble.

An autopsy was ordered to determine the cause of death.

Landis' career was marred 11 months ago by his conviction on a misdemeanor charge of filing late federal income tax returns. He had paid the taxes, and said the late filing was just "folly."

He was sentenced to 30 days in prison, but served it mostly in a hospital because of heart and nerve ailments.

Because of the conviction he was suspended from the New York Bar for a year.

Landis wrote the Securities Act of 1933 and became chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission two years later. He returned to Harvard in 1937. In 1946, President Truman named him chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Fanatical Lumpas Finding New 'Home' After Rhodesian Govt. Breaks Up HQ

By JOHN MCCAUSLAND

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia (AP) — Determined disciples of the fanatic Lumpa religious sect were reported massing today in another area of Northern Rhodesia after government forces mopped up their headquarters village.

The Northern Rhodesian government said its troops killed 65 Lumpas and wounded 50 more of the warrior tribesmen who made a suicidal charge Thursday from the village of Sione — Zion — in the Chinsali area 500 miles northeast of Lusaka.

Previously the government had reported 30 Lumpas and 11 others killed in more than a week of violence. In addition, refugee Africans have reported the Lumpas massacred 200 inhabitants of two villages near Sione.

Police said a large concentration of the sect was reported gathering at Chipundu, 70 miles south of Chinsali. Officials feared the fighting would spread through Northern Rhodesia's bush-covered northern province, an area as large as Britain.

The followers of Britain prophetess Alice Lenshina showed no fear at Sione as wave after wave of them, armed with spears or old muzzle loaders, charged the troops, armed with rifles and Bren guns.

A government spokesman said six soldiers were slightly wounded.

The troops moved into Sione and routed a number of spear-armed women from the sect's brick "cathedral" with tear gas, but they couldn't find Alice, founder of the 11-year-old sect which numbers 75,000 adherents.

"Ordinarily I don't write letters of this sort, Mr. Matt, but after reading your advertisement, I was prompted to whack out a little note in praise of your good product.

I'm a man who enjoys good beer. I can recall some adventures in good beer drinking over the years. During the war years in the Pacific, my minesweeper would take aboard a load of beer whenever a supply ship had some available. Mostly it was cases of [ Deleted ], a green, very nearly flat brew. With every three or four cases we were entitled to one case of [ Deleted ]. The few choice cases of [ Deleted ] would be ferreted away to be consumed in secret by those comprising little spheres of influence aboard ship.

After the war, I can recall happy days while living in Mexico as a student. In the little colonial town of San Miguel de Allende, located high in the mountains north of Mexico City, my favorite bar was the 'El Infierno.' There the hours were spent in nibbling on the free lunches of country cheese and anchovies, stuffed olives, and nuts—all washed down by tall brown bottles of [ Deleted ] beer. This was a wonderful dark and heavy brew brewed in Monterey. It cost 75 centavos a bottle—the equivalent of, roughly, eleven cents.

For a long time after that, [ Deleted ] was my favorite beer back home in New York State. One day last summer when the four o'clock sun was beating down on parched lawns and commuters, I took refuge in the shade of a little tavern just outside Albany. The bartender didn't have my favorite, and he suggested a bottle of Utica Club. That was the best adventure of all. I've been enjoying it ever since.

To me, beer is not just the 'Plebeian ale' the Greeks spoke of. And it is not something to buy simply because one cannot afford Scotch; nor something to get slopped over. I drink a lot of beer and I enjoy every drop of it. I enjoy beer with my meals and a couple of bottles of U.C. help me to relax before dinner. I buy my Utica Club by the case and it's the best bargain in my budget.

Someday, if I venture that way, I'd like very much to visit your brewery to see how it's done.

Sincerely,

Rex J. Brusgul
Rex J. Brusgul

Saranac Lake, N.Y."

This letter from Mr. Brusgul came in unsolicited. When we wrote him asking if we could use it in an ad, not only did he give us permission, but all he would accept in return was a case of Utica Club beer. And—oh, yes—an invitation to be taken through the brewery. Walter J. Matt, President, West End Brewing Company of Utica, N.Y.
